Island Fight Hotter

Dulles, Chiang Talks More Urgent

Taipei, Formosa (Wednesday) (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles and President Chiang Kai-shek continued their talks Wednesday as fresh artillery duels blazed in the Formosa Strait.

Dulles and Chiang met Wednesday morning in the red brick Ministry of Defense in downtown Taipei for their 2nd business session of the U.S. official's current visit made more urgent by new fighting.

Dulles arrived Tuesday, and the two leaders met for two and a half hours in the afternoon. Chiang entertained the visitors at dinner Tuesday night, but it was mostly a social occasion lasting only about an hour.

Nationalist defense spokesmen said the Chinese Communists fired 6,626 shells at the Quemoys in the 12 hours ending at 6 a.m. Wednesday. The Nationalists fired back, using 8-inch howitzers and other guns moved to the island outposts during the cease-fire the Reds broke Monday.

By Nationalist count, the Communists had fired 21,507 rounds at the offshore islands in the period from 4 p.m. Monday to 6 a.m. Wednesday.

Following Tuesday's talk's between Dulles and Chiang, a spokesman said the whole political and military situation in the Formosa area was reviewed. In reply to a question, he said it was possible the two discussed possible resumption of U.S. warship convoys for supply ships to Quemoy.

A joint communique after the end of the conferences is expected to express continued U.S.-Nationalist solidarity in the face of Peiping's campaign to split the two allies and force U.S. armed might out of the western Pacific.

What Dulles called his search for a dependable cease-fire requires a common U.S.-Nationalist policy. This might include the U.S. desire that Chiang thin his forces on the offshore islands in the hope Red China would accept a permanent cease-fire.

Joseph Greene, spokesman for Dulles, said emphatically: "Mr. Dulles is not here to twist anybody's arm or apply any heat or pressure."

Convoys Resume

Taipei, Formosa (AP)—The United States in effect said Wednesday that it is resuming the escorting of supplies to Quemoy because the Communists have resumed their artillery bombardment of the Nationalist offshore island.

An announcement by U.S. Ambassador Everett Drumright cited the Washington statement of Oct. 8 saying that "if the Chinese Communist attacks are resumed . . . United States escort activity will be resumed forthwith to the extent necessary."

Timber Meeting Sees Need For More Trees

By Virgil Falloon

The potential doubling of Nebraska's one million acres of woodlands and timber stands was discussed Tuesday during the first Nebraska Small Forest Ownerships conference held in Lincoln.

Its purpose was to obtain "grassroots" views on the state's needs and problems in connection with the shaping of future federal legislation and programs.

A cross-section of some 60 timberland owners, bankers, businessmen, and state officials attending were informed timber and wood production must double over the next 40 years to meet anticipated demands of a growing national population.

A. C. Eichberg, administrative assistant to Gov. Victor Anderson, said the state needs more woodlands, not only for scenic beauty, wildlife habitats, and soil conservation practices, but as a potentially growing commercial resource.

He noted that 90% of Nebraska's commercial timber is on small tracts as compared with the national average of 60%.

Joe E. Hessel, assistant U.S. regional forester from Denver, said that although Nebraska is not known as a timber producing state, there are 958,000 acres of commercial forest land owned by 53,831 persons.

Better Management Urged

He said about 75 million board feet of saw timber is being grown each year, but that "production could be doubled with better management practices."

He said Nebraska should be planting 10,000 acres of new timber annually, or 20 times current efforts.

Karl Loerch, Nebraska state forester, said that since the state program began in 1926, more than 35 million seedling trees had been distributed, 100,000 had been planted in shelterbelt and conservation programs.

For the past several years, the State Game, Forestation and Park Commission has been planting one to two million trees annually, he said.

Top And Bottom

While the state ranks near the top in the acres planted, he said, it is near the bottom in total acres.

He estimated only 10% of the state's marketable timber was being utilized and pointed out the need for better sustaining-timber management programs and production-market facilities.

Donald E. Clark of Denver, regional forester for the U.S. Forest Service and meeting chairman, said the Lincoln conference was one of 20 planned in various states and spotlighting management and production on the 60% of the nation's timber in small tract holdings.

Invasion Of Educators Begins Today

Wednesday begins the mass influx of the state's teachers to 6 Nebraska cities for intensive 2-day sessions of shop-talk and speechmaking under this year's theme of "Our Future Goes to School Today."

Nebraska State Education Assn. district conventions will be held this year in Lincoln, Omaha, Norfolk, North Platte, McCook and Alliance, with education officials and experts in other fields slated to tour the district meets for speeches and discussions.

Registration in Lincoln begins at 3 p.m. Wednesday with an expected 3,600 to 4,000 teachers in attendance at the full schedules of meetings and luncheons Thursday and Friday.

The Omaha District 2 teachers' convention is expected to draw around 3,000 to its sessions.

A preliminary dinner at the University of Nebraska Student Union Wednesday evening will feature a speech by Elsie Farris, founder of the International Christian Fellowship Scholarship Foundation, on her world travels."

General sessions Thursday and Friday morning will be held at Pershing Municipal Auditorium.

COOL TEMPS TO REMAIN

The weather will remain cool with clear to partly cloudy skies through Wednesday night.

Highs Wednesday will range from 52 to 62.

A trace of mixed snow and rain was recorded at Chadron early Tuesday. Omaha recorded the high temperature of 65 Tuesday, while Sidney had the low mark of 34.

Lincoln had a mercury reading of 64 for its high temperature and a low of 51.

Two Die After Car Hits Truck

Iowans, Kearney Man Victims In Lexington, Hayes Center Mishaps

Three persons died in highway accidents in Nebraska Tuesday, two of them when their car and a gasoline truck collided and their car burned.

The two, Frank Gaines, 56, and his wife, age not known, of Atlantic, Ia., were the victims of an accident on Highway 30 east of Lexington.

The gasoline truck was driven by Clarence H. DeWild, Phillipsburg, Kas. He escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

Although the car burned after the crash, its occupants were believed killed by the crash impact and not by the fire.

Officers said the crash came when the car, westbound, swerved into the eastbound lane to avoid a pickup truck that had pulled into the highway from the north.

The other fatal accident took the life of Nicholas Shada, 48, of Kearney when a semi-trailer he was driving, loaded with gravel, went down a 35-foot embankment on a county road one mile east of Hayes Center.

Shada was hauling gravel for a highway construction job south of Hayes Center. He was employed by the Whitten Construction Co.

Sheriff Bob Thayer said a front spindle on the cab apparently broke and the truck went out of control and over the bank.

The deaths raised Nebraska's traffic fatality toll for the year to 264, against 235 at this time in 1957.

491 Voters Sign Up As 3 Days Left

Voter registration at the election commissioner's office Tuesday totaled 491.

Of these registrations 229 were filed after 4:30 p.m. up to 9 p.m. This period is the extra time added to the ordinary closing time of 5 p.m.

Wednesday and Thursday the office will again be open to 9 p.m. Friday is the last day for registration and the deadline is 5 p.m.

Voters who will be out of the county on election day—Nov. 4—may cast their ballot between now and Nov. 1 at the election commissioner's office.

In obtaining an absentee ballot over the counter or by mail, they must certify they will be out of the county on election day.

Deputy Election Commissioner Pat Boyles said 207 absentee ballots were mailed out Tuesday and 17 persons voted early at the office.

He said absentee requests are "running a little ahead so far" of comparable figures for the election four years ago. The final total then hit 820 absentee ballots.

Cat-Scratched Youth Begins Rabies Shots

An 18-year-old Lincoln youth will begin a series of rabies shots Wednesday after a State Health Department check revealed that a cat which scratched him 14 days ago died of the disease.

Jim Anderson of 5500 Saylor was scratched by the family cat, "Tinker," as he was putting it in a box to take to the Humane Society Oct. 7. The cat died Oct. 18 at the Humane Society Shelter, and its body was sent to the state laboratory to determine if it were diseased.

Anderson, the son of Mrs. Ray E. Orton, will undergo a series of 14 preventative shots.

BIG THREE GREETED

California Governor Goodwin Knight stands behind President Eisenhower as Senator William F. Knowland (R-Calf) waves to someone at Marina Green near the Golden Gate Bridge shortly after the President's arrival in San Francisco.

HST Says Nixon, Ike Have Jitters

...See Prospects Of Demo Win

New Castle, Pa. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman told a cheering Democratic rally Tuesday night that President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon "have the jitters" over prospects of a Democratic congressional victory.

Joseph J. Barr, Democratic state chairman, said more than 1,700 persons paid $10 a ticket for Tuesday night's party dinner.

Truman, given a rousing welcome to New Castle, declared the recession will last as "long as" the Republicans are running the government.

Truman said he had been asked if the Democrats "had the jitters because Eisenhower and Nixon were out campaigning. Nobody has the jitters but Nixon and the President," he said.

He said the "halo" for which the people voted in 1952 and 1956 "has faded." He said the Republicans brought foreign policy into politics in 1952 "and they are now paying the fiddler for doing it."

'Landslide'

For this and other reasons, he said, unless he is badly mistaken the November 4 election will bring "the biggest Democratic landslide since Franklin Roosevelt drove the money changers out of the temple in 1932."

Truman disavowed the title of either pollster or prophet. But he said in his speech that Republicans everywhere are gloomy and down in the dumps.

Truman, at a news conference preceding his speech, was asked by a reporter if he thought Vice President Nixon was responsible for "tougher" speeches by President Eisenhower.

"I wouldn't be surprised if he didn't have a finger in the pie," the ex-President said of Nixon. But, he said he hoped Eisenhower wouldn't follow Nixon's lead and "resort to character assassination."

The scrappy 74-year-old Democrat flew from New York to Pittsburgh and then travelled 50 miles by auto to New Castle to boost the party's Pennsylvania ticket of Gov. George M. Leader for U.S. Senate and Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh to succeed Leader as governor.

The ex-President countered President Eisenhower's call in California for the defeat of Democratic "political radical" with the claim that the "Eisenhower-Nixon administration" is trying to turn the clock back.

He said Republicans "are running against this retired farmer from Missouri just like they did in 1948.

"If they keep it up," Truman added with heavy sarcasm, "they might even elect Tom Dewey as President."

Man Found Dead; Gave Local Address

Memphis, Tenn. (UPI)—A man who registered 5 days ago as Sam West, Lincoln, Neb., but whose laundry tags bore another name, was found dead in his room Tuesday with self-inflicted pistol wounds.

Memphis police said the man's laundry was marked with the name "Leo Hunolt" and that fingerprints were being processed in an effort to obtain his true identity.

The victim left a note saying his belongings should be turned over to a Roman Catholic priest if nobody claimed them. A price tag was still on his new .38-caliber pistol.

Hotel officials said the man paid one week's advance rent and left the room only to eat, returning immediately and holing up in his room throughout the 5 days.

(A check of Lincoln sources revealed no record of a Sam West or Leo Hunolt.)

Contributions Are Reported By 3 More Political Groups

Three more reports of major contributors to political committees have been filed with the Secretary of State's office bringing to 6 the total number of reports filed by the close of business Tuesday.

The Lancaster County Brooks for Governor Committee listed a total of $415.50 from larger contributors, reported Jack Carey of Lincoln.

Nebraskan Republican Finance and Budget Committee Chairman John R. Cooper of Humboldt, reorted a total of $35.866.95, the bulk of which was made by GOP committees in 47 counties.

Cooper said the county committees had not yet supplied him with a breakdown of the individual contributors in each county, but that such a report would be filed as soon as possible.

Battle Vet Is Guilty Of Cruelty

Ft. Jackson, S.C. (AP) — A battle-hardened master sergeant who claimed he took over company discipline when the commanding officer failed to assume it, was convicted Tuesday of mistreating recruits at this Army training base.

Sgt. George Sovie of Odgensburg, N.Y., was reduced in rank one grade and ordered to forfeit $75 a month of his pay for 6 months. He could have been imprisoned 4½ years, given a dishonorable discharge and made to forfeit all pay.

An 8-member general court-martial convicted Sovie, a 13-year, thrice wounded Army veteran, of ordering one recruit dipped head first into an Army grease trap, striking and kicking others, forcing two trainees to eat dollar bills, and requiring a group of 6 recruits to hold heavy footlockers above their heads for up to 20 minutes.

Ike's Effort Fails

Knowland, Knight Split Remains; Demos Hit

San Francisco (AP) — President Eisenhower assailed the Democrats in two bare-knuckled GOP campaign talks Tuesday, but his flying trip to California apparently failed to patch up the split between Gov. Goodwin J. Knight and Sen. William F. Knowland, Republicans running for each other's office.

Flying from Los Angeles in the President's plane, Columbine III, Gov. Knight told newsmen aboard that "nothing has changed" between himself and Knowland.

The Governor reiterated he would never support the Democartic nominee for Governor, State Atty. Gen. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, but shrugged and walked away when reporters asked if he would vote for Knowland for Governor.

Eisenhower had gotten Knight and Knowland together Monday night in Los Angeles, where he made a speech calling for an end to intra-party bickering.

Knowland was aboard the Columbine III Tuesday, too, but was in another compartment when Knight talked to reporters.

Knight was an avowed candidate for reelection until Knowland announced for governor. Then Knight was forced to run for the Senate seat which Knowland is vacating. Both won the Republican nominations handily but trailed their Democratic opponents in total primary votes.

The President Tuesday hit the labor topic hard, accusing the Democrats of scuttling his labor cleanup program in the last Congress, but sticking to his position that "right to work" is a state issue, not national. He said only the election of such Republicans as Knowland and Knight could protect the rights of union members and stave off what he called the trend toward "centralized bureaucracy."

Flying into the San Francisco Airport, Eisenhower took a 12-mile helicopter ride to the city, circling over the Cow Palace where he was renominated in 1956.

Landing at the Marina Green, he motored to Civic Auditorium.

Off-The-Cuff

There, an off-the-cuff regional television forum with 22 Republican women, the President charged the Democratic administration of Harry Truman with ignoring the ballistic missile program.

Answering questions, he urged women to help him fight high government spending, which he blamed for high living costs, and said he thought the prospects of peace in the Orient "look better than they have for a long time."

Stepping across the main auditorium, Eisenhower then addressed an estimated 5,400 Republican precinct workers. He told them any leadership corruption in labor unions "must be fumigated."

LANDS IN CHICAGO

Chicago (AP) — President Eisenhower arrived in Chicago minutes before midnight Tuesday for a Republican campaign address Wednesday night.

The presidential plane, Columbine III, landed at Midway Airport at 11:55 p.m. CDT, about 35 minutes behind the announced scheduled arrival. The President had been campaigning in California the last two days.

The speech Wednesday night before about 5,000 rank-and-file Republican precinct workers will be televised and broadcast nationally (CBS) from 7:30 to 8 p.m. CST. (Station KOLN-TV, Channel 10, said it would carry the speech at 8:30 p.m. Lincoln time.)

–Thought To Be Castro Brothers–

Rebels Take 2 Americans

...Cubans Flee To Mountains

Havana (AP)—Two American and 7 Cuban employes of a Texaco refinery were kidnaped and carried off to the rebels' jungled mountain strongholds of eastern Cuba.

The U.S. Embassy disclosed the seizure of the 9 Tuesday during efforts to liberate the American citizens.

The abductions near Santiago were in the same rugged area where 50 U. S. Sailors and Marines and employes of North American mining companies were seized last June. All these eventually were released singly and in groups through efforts of American consuls who plunged into the wilderness to negotiate.

Rebel Brothers

The area is dominated by the rebel brother leaders Fidel and Raoul Castro. They have long sought to overthrow the Batista government and dramatize their battle with spectacular, kidnapings, hit-run raids and other devices.

Texaco identified the two Americans seized as: Charles R. Bennett, 35, born in Guatemala of U. S. parents, whose mother lives in Panama; and Kenneth H. Drewes, 40, of Joliet, Ill., machine shop foreman at Santiago since Jan. 1957, and formerly employed at the company's Lockport, Ill., plant.

Telephone communications with Santiago and the rest of Oriente province were interrupted. Rebels blew up telephone poles over a 3-mile stretch.

The U. S. Embassy in Havana said the American consulate in Santiago is trying to obtain the release of the two Americans.

An Embassy statement said:

Not Returned

"The rebel outpost told the Texaco manager they will return shortly but as of noon Tuesday the men had not been returned.

"Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith has instructed the American consulate in Santiago to take a firm position in his contact with the rebels."

NO HEART FOR FLYING

"A wonderful bird is the pelican. His bill will hold more than his belican . . ." This extraction from a short verse by Dixon Lanier Merritt might have held true for this pelican when it was alive. However, it was found dead at 13th and O, apparently from a heart attack suffered in flight. Displaying the bird's 7-foot wing spread are Humane Society employees Kenneth Mason and John Williams. (Star Photo)

Mechanical Failure Blamed In Pelican Plunge

A pelican which fell from the sky dead at 13th & O Tuesday morning may have found a permanent resting place at the University of Nebraska museum.

Dr. C. Bertrand Schultz, director of the museum said that the bird which has a wing spread of 7 feet is being preserved and will probably be mounted in the skin collection for scientific study.

The white bird apparently suffered a heart attack in a migration flight, according to Humane Society officials who found the bird at the corner of 13th and O.

Although the 25-pound pelican had a broken neck, officials said this was probably suffered by striking a power line as it was falling.

The dead bird was first reported to state game commission officials as a whooping crane, but this was quickly ruled out by commission officials.

The museum now has one pelican, but Dr. Schultz explained that it was only in fair shape, and added that the museum had been looking for a fresh specimen.

Bridgeport School Bonds Defeated

Bridgeport, Neb. (AP)—A proposed $228,000 school bond issue failed Tuesday in a close election. The vote was 443 for the bonds and 392 against. This was a favorable margin of 53.12%. But a 55% majority was needed.

About 2,000 Dogs Given Free Shots

A vaccination clinic sponsored by the Cornhusker Kennel Club innoculated nearly 2,000 dogs against rabies according to Ed Hollister, president of the Club.

Lincoln veterinarians administered the shots, and expenses of about $1,000 for serum and other items were paid by the Club, Hollister said. The Human Society assisted in the transportation of the animals.

Each dog will now have to receive a second shot in a year, but Hollister did not know whether the Club would sponsor this series of shots.

Dr. G. R. Underwood, director of the Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Dept., has expressed a desire to have 70% of the total number of dogs in Lincoln vaccinated. However, the number of dogs who have had the short administered is still far short of that figure.

Lincoln veterinarians report that they are vaccinating dogs at their own hospitals at the rate of about 3 a day. In some cases this number also includes cats.

A Word To Wise: Get Asian Flu Shots Now

By Nancy Benjamin

A word to the wise on Asian flu prevention: vaccine is available and a lot less costly than a serious illness.

Although a future Asian flu epidemic in Nebraska—or any other place—is still a large question mark, government workers are organizing mass innoculations for their workers, and local health officials are advising vaccine shots or "boosters" for all citizens.

Dr. George Underwood, director of the Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Department explained that his department would not sponsor mass innoculations for the area. Local supplies are sufficient and family physicians should be consulted for the preventative shots.

No Epidemic—But

Neither state nor local authorities predict an epidemic of Asian flu in the state this year, but both agree that preventive shots should be administered before the onset of cold weather and the normal December-to-March flu season.

Persons who received vaccination against all strains of the flu virus last year will be able to receive a single booster shot this year. Others vaccinated against Asian flu alone or not vaccinated last year should probably receive a shot and a second follow-up booster shot a month or so later.

Although last year's Asian flu scare hit the state as early as September, Dr. Underwood explained that usually the onset of cold, damp winter weather brings on the disease because of increased dange of infection caused by indoor living, close quarters contact with large groups and less exposure to sunlight and fresh air.

City Employes

City employes will be vaccinated on a voluntary city-paid plan, now being organized. Post office department officials also report that plans for mass innoculation are in the making here. County officials and local business firms contacted have not yet announced Asian flu shot plans.

A brighter note on the state's health scene came from the State Health Department which reported a total polio count for the year of only 27 Tuesday, with only two cases reported during the preceding week.

The figures indicated that although the polio count continues to rise steadily, the state still appears headed for its lowest polio record since 1941. At this time last year the count was 74 cases.

The polio cases last week were reported from Ravenna in Buffalo County and from Grand Island in Hall County. Both cases were nonparalytic.

Gamblers Never Win –Rev. Dick

"People who enter into commercialized gambling, bingo, horse or dog racing expect to win, but the fact of the matter is that the gambler never can win," the Rev. Thomas C. Dick told his First-Plymouth Congregational Church audience.

He urged his members to study the possible implications of the referendum amendment on bingo and then vote "no as their Christian and social responsibility will dictate to them."

Normally, 50 to 80% of the take goes to the operators of bingo, according to the Rev. Mr. Dick.

"So in this sense, bingo is like any other form of lottery, whether it is racing, football pools, punchboards or even slot machines," he said.

Group's Work To Be Discussed

The work of the American Friends Service Committee will be discussed at an open meeting 7 p.m. Thursday at the YWCA.

A cafeteria supper at 6 p.m. will precede the meeting, which is being sponsored by the Lincoln Friends Meeting.

Mike Yarrow, executive secretary of the North Central regional office of the American Friends Service Committee in Des Moines, will be present, as well as Cecil Hinshaw, peace education secretary and Garnet Guild, student section secretary.

2 Trailer Courts, Told To Close, Get Permits

By Del Harding

Two of 3 trailer courts ordered closed in August by the Lancaster County Board were granted temporary operating permits Tuesday by the Board which will allow them to operate through next July 1.

The Board approved permits for the Air Base Trailer Court on Rt. 2 and the Tower View Trailer Court at 2140 Adams after hearing health department reports on progress the courts have made in clearing up objectionable sanitary conditions.

The Air Base Court has a water supply problem and the Tower View Court a sewage disposal problem.

The Board decided to ask the County Attorney's office for an opinion on the zoning status of the third court ordered closed — the Center Court at 3300 No. 41st. The question of whether or not the court is properly zoned has held up its operating permit.

Permits for two other courts which had been given 90 days to correct certain problems were approved by the Board. Approved were the Shamrock Court at 2545 Theresa and the Sunlight Court at 1720 West O.

2 More City Air Raid Sirens Given Approval

Approval for the purchase of two more air raid warning sirens for Lincoln was granted Tuesday by the Lancaster County Board.

The sirens will cost $2,520 each and will be located at Pius X High School at 6224 Logan, according to City-County Civil Derense Director Richard Vestecka. This brings to 9 the number of Lincoln warning sirens.

Legion Club Tax Status Questioned

The tax exempt status of the Legionnaire Club at 1525 P was questioned Tuesday by Lancaster County Commissioner Del Lienemann.

He said the club is in competition with other private clubs which are not tax exempt and with other eating places also not exempt. The County Board asked him to study the matter and report back at a later date.

Lienemann said he noticed a recent newspaper story which quoted the club manager as saying the club is a separate corporation from the American Legion. If this is the case, Lienemann said he did not believe it should be tax exempt.

Board Chairman Russell Brehm said he doubted if any Legionnaire Club in the state is on the tax rolls.

Smathers To Speak For Morrison

Washington (AP)—Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla) will speak in Nebraska next week on behalf of the candidacy of Frank B. Morrison, Democratic senatorial nominee.

Smathers' office said Tuesday that final plans have not been worked out fully but the speech probably will be in Omaha Oct. 27.

This will be part of a final campaign week swing which will take Smathers, chairman of the Senate Democratic campaign committee, to Utah, Wyoming and Indiana as well as Nebraska.

Asked if his Nebraska stop means the Democrats feel they have a chance to unseat Sen. Roman L. Hruska (R-Neb), Smathers said he realized Morrison has an uphill fight.

But he said the campaign committee does not think an upset victory for Morrison is impossible and that it wants to give him all the encouragement possible.

Ford Motor Company Reports Over $18 Million Net Loss So Far In '58

Detroit (AP) — Ford Motor Co. and its consolidated subsidiaries reported a net loss of $16,200,000 for the first 9 months of 1958 compared with net profits of $229,500,000 or $4.22 a share in the like 1957 period.

This year's loss to date is calculated at 30 cents per share of common stock.

In the third quarter of 1958 the company reported it lost $21,600,000 or 40 cents a share on sales of $695,600,000. In the third quarter of last year sales were $1,409,700,000 and earnings were $1.07 a share. Third quarter results in 1958, the company said, reflected a gain of $9,100,000 after taxes, on the sale of the company's 15.2% interest in the capital stock of Simca, a French automobile manufacturing company.

Sales Dip

The drop in earnings resulted from a sharp sales decline and increased labor and manufacturing costs, Ford said.

Consolidated sales in this year's first 9 months were $2,682, 900,000 compared with $4,419,200,000 in the like 1957 period.

The company reported factory sales of cars and trucks in the first 9 months of 1958 amounted to 934,054 units compared with 1,742,208 in like 1957.

Barbershop 5-Day Week Here Flops

Efforts to set a uniform 5-day week for Lincoln's barbershops has been pronounced a failure according to officers of the Master Barbers Assn.

The Sunday-Monday closing of all barber shops approved by the association last summer was not observed by non-members, according to President Ray Wittrock. This forced member barbers to open Mondays to meet competition.

At present the association has put the Monday closing up to the individual shop owner, and only a few areas such as University Place and No. 27th shops are observing Monday closings. All downtown barbers are remaining open Monday through Saturday.

Wittrock said the setting of a mandatory 5-day week may be attempted again next summer.

'Sweep-Up' Puts United Fund Drive To 71%

Tuesday was "Operation Sweep-Up" for the division leaders reporting the lowest percentage in pledges for the day at the daily report luncheon of Lincoln's United Community Chest and Red Cross Campaign.

Gene Eaton, Employee Division chairman, announced Tuesday would be the day to "sweep up loose ends."

So, Gen. Charles Thorne of the Business and Professional Division, and his aides, found themselves literally "sweeping up" on O St.—brooms and all.

$27,675 Added

The 7th report Tuesday brought in $27,675, bringing the total to date up to $424,326 or 71% of the $598,802 goal.

The 4 employee divisions reported the following amounts:

Industrial and Automotive, Lee Berkheimer, chairman: $2,509 for a total to date of $45,996 or 70% of a goal of $65,500.

Business and Professional, Charles Thorne, chairman: $4,433 for a total to date of $53,490 or 73% of a $73,550 goal.

Foods and Services, Les Rau, chairman: $5,861 for a total to date of $20,029 or 64% of a goal of $31,250.

Public Departments, Fred Herrington, chairman: $2,390 for a total to date of $53,934 or 71% toward a goal of $75,800.

The Women's division, with Mrs. Carl A. Donaldson as chairman, reported $1,167 for a total to date of $12,739 or 77% of a $16,600 goal.

Division A (advance gifts) under Lloyd J. Marti reported $11,315 today for a total to date of $238,136 or 71% of a $336,600 goal.

Reached Goals

The following colonels achieved their goals Tuesday Irv Rosewell, Florists; Lawrence Sorge, Salesbook Companies; Warren Hinze, Accountants; Mrs. Donald E. Hollett and Mrs. Eifel Anstine, Women's Division.

The Rev. John R. Waser of the First Presbyterian Church gave the invocation for the noon meeting.

Commenting on the reporting so far, Employee Division Chairman Gene Eaton said, "Analysis of the pledges turned in to date shows that the average pledge is about 8% higher than last year. We must maintain this general average on everything still to reported. The reports yet to be made must produce $8,000 more than was given last year for us to reach our goal."

And the dust flew on O Street as 5 top officials of the United Fund campaign division which had collected the lowest percentage of its goal paid for their laxity by "sweeping up loose ends." Bequests Left By E. C. Epley At $1,972,923

Omaha (AP) — Omaha hotel magnate Eugene C. Eppley left bequests totaling $1,972,923, his will revealed Tuesday.

It named 79 persons and one institution.

Eppley died Oct. 14.

An executor of the estate, Elton C. Loucks, said the bulk of Eppley's assets were conveyed to the Eugene C. Eppley Foundation, Inc., prior to Eppley's death.

The will was filed for probate Tuesday. County Judge Robert R. Troyer set the hearing for Nov. 17.

The will provided $75,000 in trust for Culver Military Academy educational foundation.

200 Called For Fugate Jury Panel

Lists containing the names of the 200 prospective jurors called for the Caril Fugate murder trial, which begins next Monday, were given Tuesday to the girl's attorney and to County Atty. Elmer Scheele.

Court-appointed defense Atty. John McArthur asked Lancaster District Judge Harry A. Spencer to release the lists, and he did.

Having the names in advance helps speed up selection of jurors acceptable to both sides by allowing both the defense and prosecution to know the occupation and other data about the prospective jurors.

City Court Dismisses 'Gang Fight' Charge

Charges of disturbing the peace and resisting arrest against Ollie O. Fulmer of 1727 So. 27th were dismissed Tuesday in Municipal Court by City Prosecutor Thomas Gorham.

Fulmer, 20, had pleaded innocent to both charges Aug. 19. He was charged in connection with police investigation of a reported "gang fight" Aug. 18 near 27th and Garfield.

Gorham said the charges were dismissed because of "insufficient evidence."

Fewer Walks, More Parks

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

People will be thinking kindly of the City Council and the Park Department for a long time as a result of action taken at the last Council meeting. The good news was in the form of approval of plans for hard surfacing of the Antelope Park zoo parking area.

This has been an eyesore and a serious inconvenience in an otherwise attractive and popular area of the city's park system. The parking lot has been either a mud hole or a dust trap for years with a scattering of gravel now and then being of practically no help at all. The improvement is going to cost more than originally estimated. Instead of $3,500, the surfacing job will cost $5,500 but it is still a good investment. As a result of this higher cost, however, another project will be put off.

Still Worth The Cost

But the public will not be aware of the other delay as it will actually come about as a result of other things. The project to be put on the shelf is the construction of rest rooms at Oak Lake Park. While these had been planned, they would not have been built this year, regardless of the zoo improvement.

All work at Oak Lake is being held up as a result of the indefinite status of the area. It is a shame that this has happened as it means a definite loss for Lincoln in several ways. Nothing can be done at Oak Lake because no one knows if the area is to be destroyed when Lincoln's connection with the interstate highway is completed.

This connection may go right through the middle of the east lake or could possibly skirt that lake to the east, leaving the recreational spot relatively as is. The former course is much preferred but we have learned not to be too hopeful when a highway is pitted against a park. The parks just never seem to have a chance.

However, the situation may turn out a little differently at Oak Lake, as those with an interest in parks are watching developments with determination. Oak Lake Park will not be turned into a slab of concrete without fight. To get that job done, the engineers will need more than a few unimportant objections to a couple of curves in the roadway. Lincoln needs Oak Lake Park a darn sight more than it needs another speedway.

The city, as a matter of fact, should be doing all it can at this time to get the park situation straightened out. Instead, it is doing nothing at all. And while we delay this highway decision, improvements planned for the park by both the city and the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce go begging.

Not only the future but an important part of the past is at stake at Oak Lake. A lot of public and private money has been put into making the park a good recreation center. The picnic area has been improved, water has been piped in, landscaping has been provided and both boating and fishing have been improved.

The city should make sure that it does not wait until it is too late to have any voice in the location of the interstate link. Aside from parks, the City Council is also engaged at this time in a study of sidewalks. This is a hard thing to deal with because of the need for sidewalks as opposed to the fact that most people don't want them. It has been our understanding that the city now requires sidewalks on one side of the street in any new subdivision. While this will not correct past mistakes wherein sidewalks were not provided on either side of the street, it does seem adequate for the future.

The Sidewalk Problem

The Council has referred the matter to the City Planning Commission. Undoubtedly, the commission in looking at this problem will consider the cost of sidewalks on both sides of the street as well as the improved appearance of an area without them. Needless burdens should not be placed upon the property owner.

"What's This Crazy Idea Of Independence For Anybody Besides Me?"

The Other Side Of It

Now we have it from Roy Essoyan, former Associated Press correspondent in Russia, that Soviet education is not at all the fine thing it was cracked up to be during those anxious moments when Sputnik I had the universe to itself and the United States couldn't get anything off the ground.

Essoyan, a Russian expert who was expelled by Moscow last month for evading censorship, reports that Premier Khrushchev is shaking up the whole Russian educational system because it is inefficient, discriminatory and top heavy. Though it may have produced some scientists and technicians, Essoyan said, it turned out nothing better than illiterate mechanics at the outset, and is now creating a class of pampered intellectuals who are getting into the upper strata of living as readily by family connection or political preferment as by scholarship.

This is an interesting commentary although it denies a mass of earlier testimony to the contrary. But it leaves American opinion about where it was at the outset, which is somewhere near the midpoint between the two extreme positions.

The general debate can now be dismissed. It was never a profitable one because the function of American educational success never was in window peeking on Russia, but in applying the standards and forces essential to gearing American education to this nation's modern needs. No one ever improved his business by spending his time counting the competitor's customers.

America spends too much time being fascinated by Russia and not enough setting its own house in order. The nation can better serve its interests by educational improvement and should not be swerved from the task by reports about Russia.

Little Rock Schools Open

The 1958-59 school term is now opening for white students of Little Rock, Ark. To get around the integration order of the federal court, students will be attending private schools which are not open to Negro enrollments. This may solve the problem of those who oppose integration but it could be just the beginning of a major catastrophe.

The worst thing about the move is that it could succeed. It could develop that Little Rock and Arkansas would have no public educational system. It is too early to attempt to ascertain just what effect this might have on those who do receive an education. But it seems that the program would mean, eventually at least, a loss of education for many students.

Negro students, certainly, will receive no education under a private school system. Should this large segment of the state's population go for any extended period of time uneducated, the results would be disastrous. It would not be long before Arkansas faced a problem at least as equally difficult to cope with as has been integration. The economic drain upon the state as a result of such a development would be impossible to bear.

Thus, in many ways the opening of the Little Rock schools is a sad day. It will mean an education for some and it does quiet the integration struggle, which is good, but it is a long way from a good permanent solution to the ills that face that community. The situation may provide the cooling off period which some people have wanted but if it grows into a permanent venture, Arkansas will be facing many problems of a different nature in the years ahead.

Farmers Still Getting Out

Well before the deadline for filing applications — which is this Friday — Nebraska farmers had overshot the state's soil bank allowance both in terms of acres and money.

The government was prepared to take 506,000 more Nebraska acres out of production for which it set aside $9.5 million.

But by October 10 Nebraska operators had offered 660,078 acres at an estimated cost of $13.5 million.

Something will have to give here, and the nominee at this juncture is the Nebraska farmer. If his per acre price is too high, he will have to reduce it. If he has offered too many acres he will have to take some of them off the market. As the decisions are made and the news rolls onward the differences between what Nebraska farm operators would like to do and what the government is willing to do will resolve.

But the more interesting phenomenon lies in the fact that after a historically abundant crop year — the best in terms of production Nebraska can expect in many a year — Nebraskans are still finding the soil bank a more desirable refuge than crop production.

Massive patronage of the soil bank is readily understandable in the face of poor crops. It was logical several years ago when drought erased the alternative of production. The acreage takeout and the conservation reserve became means for survival. Under the circumstances it would be logical to expect that when bumper harvests returned there would be a departure from soil bank practice. But farm thinking is not following this line and one must conclude, since agriculture thinks practically, that this continuing escape into non-operation at relatively poor prices is a sign that claims for agricultural prosperity are hollow. People just don't get out of business when business is good.

Something For Everyone

Just a little over a year ago Field Marshall Montgomery and General Eisenhower stood on Gettysburg battlefield and pronounced judgment on the two generals who fought there—Meade and Lee. Their summation of the events of those three days of fighting was that both generals should have been sacked.

It must have been an exciting thought for Montgomery who now says in his memoirs that the Battle of Europe lasted at least a year too long, and his implication is that Eisenhower would make a good third for that long gone twosome, Meade and Lee.

Nation Reacts To Terror Campaign

Nashville, Tenn. — Few people realize it when fear first creeps into the heart of a nation, and few people today probably realize that this is happening in the United States.

When Nazism first began corroding Germany, most people didn't pay much attention. A bomb was tossed at a Jewish synagogue. A swastika appeared on a Jewish shop. It created little attention. Some people even snickered. But gradually the persecution grew. Protestant and Catholics at first sat on the sidelines, unworried about the prospect that they might be next.

But they were next—as the hatred and the terror spread. It spread until neighbors suspected neighbors, until fathers feared sons, and until a government based on terror and force reached out to subdue neighboring nations with terror and force.

When a bomb went off in front of the Jewish community center in Nashville last year, nobody paid much attention. It didn't hurt anyone.

More bombings followed in Miami, Charlotte, N.C., Jacksonville, Birmingham. Some were Jewish temples, some were Negro churches. Then, on Oct. 4, 1958, one year after Sputnik, the high school in Clinton, Tenn., blew up at the hands of an expert dynamiter. A lot had happened between Oct. 4, 1957, and Oct. 4, 1958, and much of it, especially the increase of hatred, tore holes in America's proud tradition of live-and let-live, of loving thy neighbor as thyself.

One week later, October 11, another terrible explosion wrecked a synagogue in Atlanta. A few days later, there were explosions in Peoria, Ill., in Boston against Jehovah's Witnesses, the religious sect of President Eisenhower's mother; and a report that a bomb was planted in beautiful St. Patrick's cathedral, mecca of worship for New York Catholics.

Taking the same pattern as that followed in Germany, fear and terror grew. Police were stationed outside of most synagogues in the South. The children of some rabbis had to be escorted to school.

Most people, however, still were not afraid. After all, it was only school children and a minority religious group which had suffered.

However, fear had begun to hit a great many other people in a more cowardly but highly sensitive spot — the pocketbook. When a big manufacturer in the North was asked to contribute building materials to help rebuild the Clinton schoolhouse, he was sympathetic, but replied that he had to do business in the South and he might be boycotted there.

GOP Quemoy Play Now Backfiring

WASHINGTON — The Republican attempt to make political capital out of the fluid situation in the Formosa Straits has now backfired.

The sudden shattering of the Quemoy cease-fire by Red China finds President Eisenhower and Vice-President Richard M. Nixon on the hustings leading a last-minute "peace and prosperity" drive to cut down the widely predicted Democratic gains November 4.

All the GOP speeches are having to be rewritten to the background music of the Red bombardment and the answering artillery of the Nationalist Chinese. It may well be the final piece of bad luck in what has been an ill-starred campaign from the start.

It will be difficult enough to find convincing things to say immediately. What is even more damaging is that the new confusions will again focus public attention on the underlying issue of the election, which is the quality of leadership offered today by the Eisenhower administration.

☆ ☆ ☆

It is even possible that it would be better for the President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to return to Washington and put firm hands on the helm. Apparently they have decided, however, that the President shall continue to campaign and Dulles shall go on to Formosa.

Yet news dispatches from that troubled island suggest that the Communist action was a direct slap at Dulles. The Red order ending 15 days of quiet in the Formosa straits noted the secretary's impending arrival and accused him of interfering in internal Chinese affairs.

But even before Dulles took off from Washington, the administration had staged its gamble that Red China would stand still while Republicans boasted that the President had outsmarted, outthought and outfaced the Reds and thus brought peace to Formosa. The guns indeed were quiet, but the initiative remained the whole time with Peiping, and the Red Chinese are, if anything, even more unpredictable than their counterparts in the Kremlin.

☆ ☆ ☆

The only power the United States has in the Far East is the power to wage war which might turn into universal war, and that it does not want to do, as everyone knows. But no one knows what the Chinese Reds are thinking; it has been admitted at the State Department that this country cannot even be sure why or how the cease-fire came about in the first place.

Meanwhile, administration boasts were inevitably reaching Red China which, of course, cares nothing for the political necessities of either American party. Perhaps they did not influence the new outbreak; perhaps Peiping only decided that the Americans either would not or could not persuade Chiang Kai-shek to withdraw from the offshore islands so close to the China mainland.

The political impact at home remains the same — surprise, shock, confusion—with bulletins from the scene of action carrying the dismal potential of making all the campaign orators look foolish. But the Democrats can choose a certain silence now and let events speak for themselves; Republicans are again on the defensive.

MARQUIS CHILDS

GOP Wants A Partisan Eisenhower

EN ROUTE WITH PRESIDENT EISENHOWER — As a figure above the squalid quarrels of partisan politics President Eisenhower stands high in popular esteem. Political reporters in several states have remarked that he could probably run for a third term—if it were not for the 22nd amendment to the constitution and his own predilections—and be re-elected.

But, as the unhappy leaders of his party are discovering once again, this has almost nothing to do with Republicanism either past or present, new or old-fashioned. It is Ike, the man and the hero, in whom the American people have an emotional investment so great that they could scarcely bring themselves to repudiate it.

Insofar as it is possible with anyone who stands so high above the battle, pressure has been brought on the President to take a strong partisan stance in this congressional campaign. Vice-President Nixon has said that only thus can the tide of inevitable and perhaps disastrous defeat be stemmed. The way in which the President blurred the issues at his last press conference gave the Vice-President a distinct pain.

There is some hope among Republican strategists that he has been persuaded to be a strong and positive party man and, in Nixon's words, sell the administration's policies as the good politics that they are. Those close to the President are saying that after the Los Angeles speech he will make another strong and hard-hitting campaign speech in Pittsburgh.

But he has, after all, been perhaps the most non-political president in our history; more non-political than Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, who was the only other West Pointer to hold the office. It is rather late in the game for him to alter his approach and thereby risk destroying the image enshrined in the popular pantheon. How effective a shift would be at this stage is also open to doubt.

Both in Abilene and in Denver Eisenhower was renewing the familiar image of the good man, the boy from the small town who rose to the top as a great general and a leader of his country. To watch him stroll past the mementoes of his past in the Eisenhower museum was like watching a performance of "This Is Your Life" on TV.

It had all the warm, sentimental overtones of the Eisenhower story. And now and then real-life characters would come up to remind him of one phase or another of his boyhood. One of them was A. H. Forney, whose father owned the Belle Springs Creamery where the President's father worked and where Ike as a young man did odd jobs.

The President was so obviously enjoying himself in a privilege granted to very few men—viewing his record as he confidently believes history will set it down. In that record as displayed in the museum politics has little part.

What the Republicans are also discovering this year—some of them were bitterly and unhappily aware of it long ago—is that the office of the presidency is a political office. The President must be a statesman, if possible, but it is almost as important that he lead and direct his party both in policy and in the practical day-to-day business of patronage and power.

On policy the President has had little influence, although he has failed to unify the party behind his international policies. That, it should be quickly added, may have been asking too much of any mere mortal. On the practical direction of the party his influence has been negligible.

Twice in the course of this tour Eisenhower has remarked, "If I live for two years more . . ." That was apropo of his goal of bringing peace to the world. The report circulates that he intends to travel far and wide in both Europe and Asia in his last two years in the presidency in the search for peace if he is spared.

What becomes increasingly evident is that while he may run the peace department Nixon intends in the future to run the Republican party. Barnstorming through the western states he has tried to raise Republican morale by declaring boldly and firmly that the Democratic tide is turned and that with the Democrats' overconfidence disaster can be averted. But no matter how the election comes out, November 4 promises to be both for the Republicans and for their non-political president a great divide and nothing will be the same thereafter.

What Next?

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The thinking of "Oppressed" (Oct. 18) of making the Post Office conform to the taxpayers' expense, instead of purchasing shock-proof seat covers or holding onto a door handle as he slides over to deposit his mail is of the same class as those who advocate urban renewal. We are all proud of Lincoln, but desire it to remain a city where officials do not have unlimited powers to obtain and dispose of the home owners' property under the guise of comprehensive planning or progress. I would like to see City Ordinance No: 6500 enforced, which has more than enough authority to clean up the areas that LB 431 pushers use as their excuse to obtain such vicious powers. I can show anyone in black and white under this law the unlimited powers desired to obtain any property, real or personal, within the city limits and three miles beyond and how it can be disposed of to anyone for any purpose.

Thanks to an amendment, each city has the right to vote for or against this bill. If one surveys those who have perpetrated and those who are trying to sell the people on the bill, it is easy to see who will benefit the most. It was presented nine times at the Statehouse, and after the opposition dwindled because of inconvenience, it was then lobbied through. It was introduced by our own representatives of this immediate area in the 18th, 19th and 20th districts. One whom the electors had chosen to represent them did not even live in the 19th district. The 19th district is the most blighted area, according to the Bartholomew report. Lincoln is not falling apart, thanks to free enterprise. It may not be advancing in accordance with the desires of exploiters, but with property rights infringed upon, what will come next — our rights of free speech or the press?

Duo-Voiced

Hastings, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: With the coming of Nixon to Lincoln, which end of the Republican party will he be speaking for and representing? We have in this state two ends. There is the Eisenhower-Nixon end and the Hruska-Spelts-Cunningham end. With two ends, he could trail both ways, of course. It illustrates a famous dog story.

In chasing a fox at night and in hitting a wire fence, Old Blue halved himself in two. Uncle John found him with the halves quivering. He instantly applied a famous southern salve, placed the two parts together in the darkness, threw Old Blue over his shoulder and headed for home.

In the morning he went out to see how Old Blue was doing, when lo and behold, he saw the halves of the dog reversed, but the dog was living and doing well. In a week he went downtown, where the natives who had heard about the dog gathered 'round. One of them said: "Uncle John, will Old Blue be worth anything as a trailer?"

The old man smiled a knowing smile and replied: "Better 'n ever, by gum. He kin now run a trail in both directions and holler at both ends at the same time."

Financial Picture

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Republican campaign speakers Nixon, Dirksen, et al, are bearing down heavily on the claim that for 6 years we have had a sound fiscal policy. Let us look at the record.

When the Republicans took over, it was costing us $5½ billion for interest on the national debt. Now it is costing us $7½ billion. Congress has had to hike up the debt limit. U.S. bonds can only be refinanced at nearly 4% interest. It happened, too, that our U.S. money managers jacked up interest rates at a time when we had something like $40 billion in government bonds to refinance. Investment brokers, loan people in general never had it so good. At the same time the stock market has gone hogwild. Inflation is eating up the little people and the laborer. The farmer says he has to run fast just to stand still.

Yes, the Republican party has done a fine financial job — for the big shot.

W. T. DAVIS

Labor Reform Bill

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Halloween is approaching. Beware the goblins, the labor bosses! This type of political "scare" oratory is strictly for uninformed yokel consumption. The clear-thinking, informed electorate, which includes most farmers and industrial employes (union and non-union) have no stomach for corruption, violence or destruction of property. These informed people are concerned about the dynamiting of construction equipment right here in Nebraska.

The bipartisan-sponsored Kennedy-Ives labor reform bill would have made it harder on those found guilty of destruction of company property. Also the bill would have gone a long way toward helping the overwhelmingly honest portions of the labor movement rid itself of the Becks, Hoffas and others like them. Even Republican Sen. Ives bemoans the fact that the administration and a majority of the GOP stooped low enough to play into the hands of corruption in order to have a bogus campaign issue.

The labor reform bill was killed in the House. Congressman Glenn Cunningham was the only representative from Nebraska who had the intestinal fortitude to stand by the people. Weaver, Miller and Harrison rubber-stamped the GOP position and their votes were a victory for Beck, Hoffa & Co.

Now these three are frantically running the length and breadth of their districts shouting: "The Democratic party is the party of the labor bosses!" How well this type of campaigning pays off will be known by November 5. We have until 5:00 p.m., October 24, to become properly registered.

OFF THE RECORD By Ed. Reed

Paris Greets Travelers With 'Relaxed Confusion'

By Ada McVicker

(This is another in a series of European travel articles written for the Nebraska Press Assn. Here Mrs. McVicker, wife of William McVicker, wire editor of The Lincoln Star, tells of their first impressions of Paris and France.)

New York to Boston to Paris in a little over 9 hours—like Arabian Nights flying carpets of old. It was a nonstop trip from Boston, smooth as glass, with most of the comforts of 20th century living aboard. Forty-two passengers and a crew of 4 came safely over the ocean on a big DC-7.

Alternately dozing and waking through the night we were startled by the strange beauty of the great engines' exhaust flames against the dark sky. It was amazing, too, when dawn broke at 2 a.m., New York time, and the clouds below became huge puffs of cotton candy, glowing pink against a heaving, navy blue sea beneath.

As we deplaned, the first thing we noticed was an armed guard at the approach to the airport. Asked if this was customary, an employe replied, "No, it is necessary because of the Algerians."

Nobody Excited

Relaxed, rather pleasant confusion reigned as luggage was reclaimed, passports surveyed, money changed and many questions answered. Nobody got excited. Everyone was smiling. The bus took us on a fast trip to the city air terminal where a pretty French girl, whose English was acquired in school in London, took us in tow. She soon had us stowed in one of the small taxies and on the way, at break-neck speed, to our hotel. She told us where to find a fine restaurant, where to buy perfume, when and where to join scheduled tours of the city, where to get a dress cleaned and how to read taxi meters.

The restaurant provided a memorable dinner with every item of food and drink a small ceremony of perfection. It took 5 people to serve the 3 of us. The room was fragrant with the herbs and wines and sauces with which the food was prepared. Each hot dish was reheated over chafing dish flames before offered. Each cold one arrived in a bed of cracked ice. A battery of a dozen glasses of varied sizes and shapes flanked every place.

A request for water met with a pained look and the advice, "Water is poison. Why drink it!"

Attending mass at the Cathedral of Notre Dame was a Sunday highlight. Literally hundreds of members, devout pilgrims and curious tourists were present. The main sanctuary of this 800-year-old church looked two blocks long. People were seated its full length and more stood at the back. They came and went at will during the service and touring groups continued their rounds so there was a continuous shuffle of feet. The vaulted ceiling seemed a block above our heads as we surveyed the gorgeous stained glass windows.

Gendarmes Everywhere

Gendarmes are everywhere. If some were not armed with machine guns we'd expect them to form a chorus line and burst into song, with their musical comedy costumes, complete with capes and mustaches. Children all look long-legged. Little girls wear short skirts and little boys even shorter pants. On the whole French men are better looking than French women, though the latter are very chic no matter how worn their tailored suits may be. Street lights and elevator cages are beautifully designed in wrought iron. Toothpicks on each table are made of quills. Soup spoons are so big and heavy one can hardly lift them. The hotel china is beautiful heavy white Limoges with gold band.

We had a view of the whole city from Sacre Coeur, 400 feet above the Seine in Monmartre. This basilica has a bell weighing 19 tons. The Gaumont, largest theater in Europe, seats 5,500 people. The wide avenues radiating out from Arc de Triomphe are lined with 83,000 trees, mostly chestnuts.

Peterson On Jaycee Board

A vacancy on the Board of Directors of the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce has been filled by Robert E. Peterson, who has been appointed to a two-year term.

Peterson

Peterson, who is 26 years old, is associated with Peterson Construction Co. He fills the vacancy on the Board created by the resignation of William S. Olson, who is leaving the city.

Peterson has been a member of the organization since 1955, and has served as chairman of two committees while assisting in a number of other projects.

Peterson's appointment was announced Tuesday by Gay Blanc, president of the Board, who said that Peterson's experience "will be a valuable asset to our Board of Directors."

2,000 See 'Diary'

Approximately 2,000 persons attended the performance of "The Diary of Anne Frank" at Pershing Municipal Auditorium Monday night. The Pulitzer Prize and New York Drama Critics' Award play was the first of 4 plays to be presented by the Broadway Theatre League of Lincoln, which is headed by Bennett T. Martin.

Big Win Seen

New York (AP) — Nesweek magazine says a survey among 50 Washington correspondents and political writers shows that they believe the Democrats will "win big" in the Nov. 4 congressional elections.

It said "not one forecast Republican gains in either the Senate or the House."

South Street 8th-10th, To Be Closed

South Street from 8th to 10th will be closed for two to three weeks beginning Thursday morning to allow widening of the street, the Police Dept. reported.

The street will be widened from 30 to 44 feet.

Southbound traffic on one-way 9th Street will be routed east from 9th and Peach to 10th, south on 10th to Park, west on Park back to 9th and then again south. Police said 10th will be open to two-way traffic between Peach and Park.

Police also announced that No. 17th between Northside and Y, which was closed last week for railroad construction, is now open again.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

Things look pretty good these days for cats, cats. A St. Petersburg, Fla., cat has inherited $23,000. And in Eliot, Maine, a Maltese came into $2000, a farmhouse and a barn.

That is a better score than I have made this year. A better score than I AM likely to make any year since I hardly know anyone with this amount of catnip. Not to mention a working farmhouse and barn.

* * *

I had really hoped some cat would leave ME money. I have done enough for cats to warrant a grateful memory in the will.

For many a lean and journalistic year, I interviewed cats.

Cats and people who were short a few marbles.

"Guy with a perpetual motion machine wantsa see the editor," the copy boy would say.

The editor would merely look at me. And I would gather up paper and pencil and go out and take down the details. Or—

"Cat up a telephone pole," the editor would say putting down the phone. "Take a cameraman. Probably a very funny piece. Or," he would add on second thought, "a tragedy. Kid's pet and all that."

I ran this gamut of emotion from 9:30 to 6 and got to know a lot of cats.

* * *

I got to know a lot of people with loose screws too. But none of them ever mentioned me in a will. They were not that daffy.

Once I even combined the two. I got a letter from a perpetual motion man. He said he was in a hospital and his perpetual motion was going along fine.

He only had it in a planning stage. But once he got it built, it would run forever.

After he had run on like this for some time, he added: "The other day I passed a cat on the street. He turned and gave me a peculiar look."

I was so punchy with cats and motion machine men at that point that I thought we should wrap it all up in one story. But the editor would have none of it.

"The guy is off his rocker," he said. "A peculiar look indeed."

Well, that was an odd remark. Here I was getting paid for getting cats to give me peculiar looks. And interview motion men.

On the other hand, a cat gives a motion man a peculiar look. They toss him in the padded cell.

* * *

The Florida cat that got the $23,000 is named "Baby."

Baby is part Persian and part plain cat.

The farmhouse and barn cat is named "Kippy." this cat is Maltese and is 8 years old.

Both wills provide for human companionship. Friends of the family.

In all the time I spent on cats, I never met a wealthy cat. I do not suppose they allow cats to leave money to a person anyway. It is just a thought.

The perpetual motion inventor did offer me a handsome slice of his profits though. He was grateful and he said he would write me in for 10 per cent.

For all I knew his machine would run forever. I would have been rich.

But just about that time they clapped the butterfly net on him.

State Aged Case Load Shows Drop

Nebraska's old age assistance case load dropped slightly during September, the State Board of Public Welfare has reported.

The number of individuals receiving blind assistance increased slightly and increases also were registered in the number of disabled receiving aid.

However, decreases were recorded in the number of families receiving aid to dependent children.

Old age assistance cases totaled 16,242 in September, with average benefits amounting to $66.69 per case. The load compared with 16,291 in August and 16,858 in September of last year.

Families receiving aid to dependent children totaled 2,913 in September, 2,916 in August and 2,803 in September of last year.

Blind aid recipients totaled 975 last month, 971 in August, and 973 in September a year ago.

Disabled receiving assistance numbered 1,470 in September, 1,442 in August and 1,354 in September of last year.

Assistance payments for dependent children last month averaged $104.21 per family. Blind payments averaged $80.43 and disabled payments $74.08.

Montgomery Hits U.S. Foreign Policy

...West Position Weakened

New York (AP)—Field Marshal Montgomery says "inconsistencies" in American foreign policy have weakened the strategic position of the West and now threaten to break up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

On other counts, he says, NATO is in bad shape and needs a thorough overhaul.

The famed British soldier does not expect a shooting war in Europe in the next 10 years.

But he says NATO is ill-equipped to meet the type of "war" he thinks the Communist bloc will wage. American foreign policy has not helped the situation, he says, asserting:

"I often think the U.S. foreign policy is inconsistent. She appears to have one policy in the assembly of the United Nations, and another and different one when her own national interests are involved. These inconsistencies have played a large part in the weakening of the general strategic position of the West.

'Breakup'

"If continued, they could lead to the breakup of the western alliance."

Montgomery was one of Britain's top commanders in World War II. He also commanded American forces, the 1st and 9th Armies, during the Battle of the Bulge.

His memoirs are appearing in Life Magazine. In the 3rd and last installment, he says NATO needs revamping—and rapidly.

It is "top heavy" in its organization, he says, is wasting money, has too many staff officers, and too much paper work. As for its commanders, he says:

"Simplicity and decision, two absolute essentials in war, have disappeared from the NATO military organization. We are producing commanders trained in the art of compromise."

Original Purpose

NATO has achieved its original purpose, to prevent a major war in Europe, he says, adding:

"Although a major war is unlikely, limited and cold war activities outside the NATO area are likely to increase. These must be handled firmly so that they do not become the forerunner of a full-scale war.

He pays warm compliments to President Eisenhower as a "military statesman," — but not as a soldier.

"I would not class Ike as a great soldier," he writes, "in the true sense of the word. He might have become one if he had ever had the experience of exercising direct command of a division, corps and army, which unfortunately for him did not come his way."

Lienemann Has 20th List

Examples of what Lancaster County Commissioner Del Lienemann terms "obvious undervaluations" of inventories by some of the county's service stations are contained in Lienemann's latest personal property tax return report.

Lienemann, in his 20th tax report, declared that "no service station can possibly operate without $1,200 inventory in parts and accessories. Add to this his gas and oil and it would be very difficult to see how any service station can report less than a $2,000 inventory as an absolute minimum."

The examples, he said, do not include large stations but rather represent inventory figures of "average" stations as listed on county tax returns.

Examples of "obvious undervaluation":

Firm No. 1—	$ 790	Firm No. 8—	$ 350
Firm No. 2—	325	Firm No. 9—	683
Firm No. 3—	655	Firm No. 10—	400
Firm No. 4—	306	Firm No. 11—	737
Firm No. 5—	390	Firm No. 12—	710
Firm No 6—	899	Firm No. 13—	440
Firm No. 7—	1,050	Firm No. 14—	1,006

Examples of "acceptable returns":

Firm No. 1—	$5,000	Firm No. 8—	$3,500
Firm No. 2—	3,418	Firm No. 9—	3,444
Firm No. 3—	3,800	Firm No. 10—	4,000
Firm No. 4—	4,158	Firm No. 11—	3,863
Firm No. 5—	6,007	Firm No. 12—	3,795
Firm No. 6—	4,031	Firm No. 13—	4,150
Firm No 7—	3,600	Firm No. 14—	3,300

2 Plead Guilty To Lesser Count

Two men convicted of drunken driving in Municipal Court pleaded guilty Tuesday in Lancaster District Court to reduced charges of reckless driving.

Harold F. Kreizinger, 32, of 944 No. 7th, and Virgil V. Ostdiek, 32, of Geneva, both had appealed the lower court convictions. Both were fined $100 on the reckless driving charges.

The City Attorney's office amended the charge against Kreizinger and the County Attorney's office amended the charge against Ostdiek.

Hruska 'War Policy' Cited By Morrison

Incumbent U.S. Senator Roman Hruska has been charged with "pursuing a war policy" by his Democratic opponent, Frank B. Morrison.

"At Hastings on September 26 Hruska said he favored defending Chiang Kai-shek's position on Matsu and Quemoy even though it meant the probability of war," Morrison declared.

The Democrat stated that his opponent has publicly advocated the United States go to war to defend Chiang and the small offshore islands despite the fact the United States has made no specific commitment to do so.

Morrison said that if the United States follows Hruska's suggestions "our nation would be committed to backing an attempt to recapture the mainland of China, involving the United States in a prolonged, costly and bloody war."

10-Year Mandate

Morrison advocated the demilitarizing of the islands for 10 years under a United Nations mandate and turning them over to whoever was the recognized stable government of the area at the conclusion of the 10 year period.

The Democrat also charged that "Republican machine politicians" are slandering the good name of honest wage earners although they have done nothing to uncover the abuses against the vast majority of honest laboring men by labor racketeers.

Morrison charged that Hruska makes an issue of labor in this campaign to steer clear of his own record "which has consistently been against the interests of the people of Nebraska."

Some Hyde Park Guests:

ON MY OWN

By Eleanor Roosevelt

(This is the third of a series of twelve articles based on the book, "On My Own — The Years Since the White House," by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, published by Harper & Brothers, New York.)

My mother-in-law once remarked that I liked to "keep a hotel" and I probably still do when I am at Hyde Park. I no longer live in the big house, which has been given to the government, but in a small cottage on the estate. There usually seem to be plenty of guests there and they include almost anyone from the Emperor of Ethiopia to my newest great-grandchild.

Sometimes there are so many guests that they arrive by the busload — perhaps a group of college students from various foreign countries who come for a few hours to sit under the trees and talk with me on any subject they please, or perhaps a crowd of seventy-five or so employees of the United Nations who have been invited for a picnic.

Barefoot Boy

A number of my visitors are friends or acquaintances connected with my work for the American Association for the United Nations or with my earlier life in the White House, while others are official visitors to the grave of my husband. One of the most interesting was Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, who came to Hyde Park while on an official visit to the United States.

The Department of State had, of course, made all arrangements for his visit. A representative of the department advised me that there would be nineteen persons in his entourage. He would arrive at noon and I was to meet him at my husband's grave in the rose garden. He was to visit the library where the records of my husband's administration are kept. He positively must get to the house by one o'clock because he wanted to see a television broadcast of a film that he had made. Then the State Department representative added sternly that it was imperative that the Emperor have half hour alone in his room before luncheon for rest and contemplation.

History On Ice

I thought this a rather crowded schedule but I didn't try to argue with the State Department protocol officer. I met the Emperor and accompanied him to the library. He was much interested in modernizing his own country, and when he saw the excellent system for keeping records in the library he became excited and summarily ordered his entire staff to be assembled.

"Look!" he exclaimed, waving his hand toward the library stacks. "Study this system. Here is how you do it — here is how you keep history!"

He was so busy examining the library that I barely managed to get him to the house on the stroke of one o'clock. He found a low stool in the living room and seated himself in front of the television set and seemed to forget everything else as the film of himself came on the screen. I am not sure that he had ever seen television of any kind before. In any event, he was fascinated and the minutes passed with no sign that he was ready to retire to his room for the scheduled half hour before luncheon. This rest period had been so strongly emphasized to me, however, that at last I approached and spoke to him in French.

"Your Majesty," I said, "I believe you want to rest for half an hour alone."

He did not turn his gaze from the television screen, but his reply was prompt:

"Oh, no. It is not necessary for me to be alone. I only wanted to take off my shoes for a little while."

Still watching the screen, he pointed downward.

"And," he added, "my shoes are off."

Prime Minister Nehru

Another distinguished visitor to Hyde Park was Prime Minister Nehru of India, who came to luncheon one day when a number of my grandchildren and their friends were there. A striking figure in his long, dark coat and white trousers bound tightly at the ankles, the Prime Minister seemed delighted to see the young people and after luncheon sat crosslegged in the middle of the living-room floor to talk to them for a long time. He appeared to be just as interested in asking them questions as they were in hearing his views, and it was an afternoon I will long remember.

To an extent I had never before witnessed, Mr. Nehru has the power to concentrate. Once at a dinner, I noticed that he seemed to have completely detached himself from his surroundings. He ate but he obviously was "not present." He was far away and thinking about something entirely unrelated to the dinner-table conversation. On another occasion, I observed that he was really not listening to what I was saying to him and, for the moment, was even unaware that I was trying to carry on a conversation. This power of self-detachment and concentration is less unusual in India, but it was something I had previously observed only in persons who had been a long time in solitary confinement. Mr. Nehru has the point of view of a man educated in the West, but at heart he is very much an Indian as well as very much a human being.

(In the fourth article of this series, appearing tomorrow, Mrs. Roosevelt recounts her visit at Windsor Castle with the British Royal Family.)

THURSDAY IS UNITED STATES DAY IN NEBRASKA

Gov. Victor Anderson has proclaimed Thursday as United States Day in Nebraska. In issuing his proclamation, Anderson said there is "much propaganda circulated among us designed to persuade us to compromise and surrender our sovereignty, and thereby our freedoms hard won by our forbearers for our benefit and for the benefit of future generations."

Dear Abby . . .

But Plenty of Bother!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We play bridge with our next door neighbors and for an evening snack we agreed not to fuss. Just to serve coffee and doughnuts. That's what I served. When we went to her house she served chicken salad sandwiches and coffee and brownies. The next time at my house I served coffee and doughnuts. When it was her turn again she served ham sandwiches, fruit salad, coffee and ice cream. I told my husband I didn't care if she served porterhouse steak, I am only going to have coffee and doughnuts. And they don't have any more money than we do. Please tell me if I am doing right? PLAIN PEOPLE

DEAR PLAIN: If you agreed to serve only coffee and doughnuts, serve coffee and doughnuts.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My problem is about religion. My father won't let me accept a date with a boy who is not of my own faith. I am only 16 years old, Abby, but I think I have pretty good sense. I wouldn't turn away from my own religion for any boy, but how can I convince my father that just because I have a few dates with a boy of a different faith it doesn't mean I am going to marry him? VOTED DOWN

DEAR VOTED: As long as you feel strongly about your own religion, why tempt the Fates and complicate your life? Do yourself a favor and confine your dates to boys you could marry should Cupid's dart prematurely find your heart.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My husband works as night electrician at a hospital. A few months ago a woman who works in the laundry started to do his wash for him so he wouldn't have to bring it home for me to do it. I told my sister about it and she said, "No woman is doing a man's wash just because she likes to wash." I got mad and said I thought it was very nice of her to do it. I asked a few other friends what they thought about it and they changed the subject. My husband is 44 and most women at the hospital are much younger than he is so they wouldn't go for a man his age. He told me so. Should I make him bring his wash home or not?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: A married man (age 44) should not give a co-worker the shirt off his back — even if she offers to launder it for him, but stop asking your friends and relatives what they think about it and short-circuit the connection between your hubby and the laundry lady — pronto!

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Since sales people are airing their complaints, may I add mine? How about the woman who will come into the drapery department spend hours of your time while you help her match colors, compare, explain and educate and then she will leave — undecided. She returns the next day with her ladyfriend and I go through the same routine all over again. They leave — undecided. The next week she will bring her husband in. This makes THREE times I must go through the same routine. She leaves with my name and sales number on a card — still undecided. Then one day I come back from lunch and find out that the lady was back and bought the first thing I showed her — from somebody else. BURNED

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl and my mother and I had a heart to heart talk. She told me I should tell her everything. Well, I told her everything and now she won't let me go around with my best girl friend because she says she is wild and is a bad influence on me. She won't let me go out with either of the two boys I like because she thinks they are fast and I might get into trouble. If I listened to my mother I wouldn't have any friends. My mother is real square. Abby, what can a girl do when she has a square mother?

"15"

DEAR "15"—Your mother is NOT square—she is round as she is sound. Better to walk alone than to be in the company of questionable companions.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope

Head Credit Women

Meeting for their monthly dinner Tuesday evening at the YWCA were the members of the Credit Women's Club. Mrs. Helen Johannes presided at the short meeting after which Mrs. Verna Regelean installed the group's new officers.

The officers are (from the left), seated, Mrs. Betty DeLand, president; and standing, Mrs. Clarice Gembala, treasurer; Mrs. Bertha Tudor, secretary; and Mrs. Estella MacDoniels, vice president.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Rochman of Peoria, Ill., are the parents of a son born on Saturday, Oct. 18. Mrs. Rochman will be remembered as the former Shirley Rosenberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rosenberg of Lincoln and Mortar Board at the University of Nebraska.

TOWN TALK

—this seems to be our week for world travelers—Yesterday we had the pleasure of introducing Mr. and Mrs. George Canham of Wellington, New Zealand who were spending a short time in Lincoln, and this morning we have news of visitors from Hong Kong.

Arriving in Lincoln on Thursday for a brief visit with Mrs. Tracy Pierce will be Mrs. Pierce's niece, Mrs. Richard A. J. Richardson, and Mr. Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, whose marriage took place last July, are spending a year's leave visiting family members. In March they will return to Hong Kong where they will reside.

Mrs. Richardson will be remembered as Barbara Keith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Keith of Riverside, Calif., and a former student at the University of Nebraska. She received her college degree at UCLA, where she is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, and after special study with the State Department in Washington she was assigned to the staff of the American Embassy at The Hague, Netherlands, and two years ago was sent to Hong Kong to fill a similar position. And in Hong Kong was Mr. Richardson who is superintendent of Security Police which, as you may know, is the British equivalent of the American FBI.

Following their wedding at Riverside Mr. and Mrs. Richardson began their travels by visiting members of Mr. Richardson's family in Victoria, B.C., and sightseeing in Canada and the United States, including Kent, O., where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg Wilson (Janet Pierce), formerly of Lincoln.

There will be other visits to other relatives in other places, but the Christmas holidays will be spent with Mr. Richardson's parents in Saffron-Walden, England, —and from England the Richardsons will sail for Hong Kong.

* * *

—understand that Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Cox are back home again after an extended trip through eastern Canada and the New England States. En route home Mr. and Mrs. Cox spent some time in New York City and Gettysburg, Pa.

* * *

—someone told us that Dr. Victor West was in Chicago where he attended the Methodist National Conference on Family Life, and that he was the guest of his son, V. Royce West and his family, at Evanston.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

We find ourselves discoursing on a variety of subjects this Wednesday morning as we reveal the news gathered from neighbors in our Country Club and Indian Village suburbs.

COUNTRY CLUB MANOR

The Lincoln Camp Fire Girls and Blue Bird groups will be having a full day Thursday when they travel by train to Omaha for a day of sightseeing.

And included among the 1000 girls who will be taking the trip will be the Oktate Camp Fire Girls who live in and around the Country Club area, namely, Judy Boyd, Lana Ferguson, Nancy Knapp, Sherrill Kushner, Marsha Finkel, Debbie Magee, Susan Lindburg, Gloria Mischnick, Kay Stipsky and Carol Nelson. The girls will be accompanied by their leader, Mrs. Ray Knapp, and their sponsor, Mrs. James Boyd. Other members of the group unable to make the trip are Mary Anna Allard and Jane Hansen.

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Understand that Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Walker and their four-year-old son, Randy, settled in their new home in Country Club Terrace last Thursday. The new address of the Walker home is 2140 Kessler Circle.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker moved to Lincoln a year and a half ago. Mrs. Walker's original home is Crete, and Mr. Walker is from Seward.

Another newcomer in the suburb is Richard Mark Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bowman, who joined the bassinet brigade on Saturday, Oct. 18, at Bryan Memorial Hospital. Among Richard's most ardent admirers are his sisters, Tyra and Carol, and his brother, Donald.

The young man's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Bowman of Lincoln, and Mr. and Mrs. Millard Dodge of Fremont are the maternal grandparents.

Entertaining the members of her bridge club this evening will be Mrs. George Hecker. The eightsome has been invited to the Hecker home for the dessert supper and card party, and guests for the evening will be Mrs. F. L. Logan, Mrs. Thomas Boles and Mrs. Lyle Dohman.

INDIAN VILLAGE

A new member of the talcum powder set in Indian Village is Miss Kristen Kay Forke who was born at Lincoln General Hospital on Monday, Oct. 20. The proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ted Forke.

Kristen's grandparents are Mrs. A. H. Forke of Lincoln and Mr. and Mrs. George Rees of Waverly.

Arriving in Indian Village on Tuesday was Miss Mary Rawles of Memphis, Tenn., who is a house guest of her niece, Mrs. Thomas McManus, and Mr. McManus. Miss Rawles plans a two-week visit in Lincoln.

CHATTER In The CORRIDOR

KIT

BY KIT STUART
of Southeast High School

Southeast High School Homecoming will be Wednesday night when the Knights will be hosts to Fairbury High School at the Oval. The King and Queen will be crowned during the half by last year's King and Queen, those who have graduated from Southeast, and although only 300 have been graduated thus far, we hope many of them will be on hand to cheer us to victory over Fairbury.

The dance will be Thursday, October 23, in the school cafeteria from 8 to 11. Homecoming is especially for all Young, Susie Hunt, Jon Taylor, Veretta Dorf, Ron Loken and Ruthie Read. Not pictured is Dick Harr.

Pam and Cindy Haynie and Kit Stuart are entertaining some friends from Fairbury for dinner Wednesday before the game.

Diann Deitemeyer, Brenda Harrison, Ann Bartholomew, Nancy Brown, Barbara Clark, Jane Hobbs, Janet Goldenstein and Pat Plamondon are having a dinner for some of the junior girls before the game. They are planning a victory dinner and with their support, we can't lose.

Susie Cole is having a dinner for a few of the sophomore girls before the Fairbury game.

After the game, Janie Garlinghouse and Nancy Seacrest are having a slumber party.

Teacher's Convention is October 23 and 24. This will give the students a vacation that they well deserve. With four days leisure, I'm sure many activities are planned.

PTA Programs Feature Guest Speakers

A panel discussion on the elementary school curriculum was presented Tuesday evening at the meeting of RILEY PTA. Mrs. Brown Morrow, principal, served as moderator and the speakers were Mrs. Zelma Hodder, coordinator of elementary education, Miss Betty Wright, coordinator of music, and Miss Elva McFie, coordinator of art for the Lincoln Schools.

Yank Leads Oxford Rowing Rebellion

Coach Says Goal Posts Ought To Be Moved Up

Washington (AP) — Coach Bo Sherman of George Washington Tuesday reported growing interest among college football authorities in moving the goal posts up to the goal line.

Sherman, who looks on the punt as well as the placekick as an offensive device, personally favors the idea.

He believes a majority of Southern Conference coaches also approve and predicts the change would receive wide support in the annual survey of coaches' thinking across the country.

Sherman brushes aside an occasionally voiced objection that placing the posts at the near edge of the end zone would increase the risk of injuries. Any fear that players would crash into the timbers could easily be eliminated, he said, by planting the uprights two paces back — as the pros do — or even all the way back where they're now located.

The cross bar and urights on either end would be projected over the goal line.

Sherman and like-minded coaches favor bringing in the goal posts to nake it easier for college players to kick field goals.

"You need the 3 points from a field goal to defend yourself against the 2 points now possible in a conversion," Sherman told sports writers at a GW luncheon.

Sherman, from a coach's viewpoint, opposes the new rule which gives two points for a successful pass or run after each touchdown and one for a kick. But he concedes it has added spectator appeal.

Sherman contends goal-line goal posts would do the same, by multiplying the opportunities to score.

"With 4th down and long yardage on the 30, for example, you could go for the field goal rather than play safe or punt," Sherman said. "It would have a lot of advantages as far as coaching is concerned.

"I think there is a chance it will be done, too. The Rules Committee put in the 2-point conversion to open up the game and make it more interesting. This also would make the game more interesting."

GW achieved its lone victory in 3 games to date on a 23-yard field goal by tackle Pete Wasilewski, which dumped Furman 11-8.

Training Methods Disliked

Oxford, England (AP)—A lanky Yank at Oxford who doesn't like traditional British technique became the center Tuesday of the biggest rowing row in a century here.

Reed Rubin, 6-foot-4, 200-pound former Yale man from New York City, started it all by disagreeing openly with Oxford University's training methods and technique for the 105th rowing of the boat race against Cambridge University in March.

Rubin, who rowed on the Oxford crew last year, formed a pirate crew of his own—to train independently of the official Oxford crew.

"We have ordered our boat. It will cost between 300 and 400 pounds ($840 and $1,120)," Rubin said. "The money is being provided by friends of Oxford rowing."

Rubin also said they had 3 coaches. But he refused to name them.

Ronald Howard, president of Oxford rowing and responsible for forming the crew to meet Cambridge, made it clear he will have no part of the rebels—unless they disband and return to the official fold.

The Oxford dispute is much more than a minor domestic disagreement. Every year about 200,000 people watch the inter-varsity boat race over a River Thames course of 4 miles, 400 yards.

The Daily Telegraph said the dispute "has split Oxford rowing to a degree in which in all its long history it has never been split before."

The rebel crew includes some of the best oarsmen at Oxford, including Rubin and another Yale man, Charles L. Grimes of Locust Valley, L.I.

Grimes, who rowed in the Yale 8 that won the Olympic title for the United States in 1956, said: "We hope members of the university feel as we do—that there is room for legitimate differences in rowing policy.

"Our crew will be at the disposal of the president if he wants us to row against Cambridge in March."

Howard has turned down the offer. He's also firmly turned down a challenge by the rebel crew to race against the official 8. The rebels' idea was that the winning 8 should row against Cambridge.

Rubin said their disagreements with Howard lay in two matters—training and technique. He thought too much time was spent on the water and that much of it was wasted. He thought not enough time was spent in coaching the individuals before they were assembled in their boat.

AUSSIES MAY BAN KRAMER'S TENNIS TOUR

Melbourne (AP) — A ranking Australian tennis official has warned professional promoter Jack Kramer that he might be prevented from staging his pro matches anywhere in Australia.

The official, Victorian Lawn Tennis Assn. President R. M. Vroland, was commenting on reports that Kramer was planning matches in Melbourne and Sydney outside official tennis venues.

Vroland said Kramer had objected to granting free admission to members of the Victorian, New South Wales and Western Australian Lawn Tennis Associations in return for the right to rent their courts for his matches.

But apparently Kramer found the terms offered by South Australia and Queensland acceptable, because they wanted only a concession rate for admission of their members.

Colorado Nation's Top Rushing Club

By The Associated Press

Army, currently No. 1 in the Associated Press weekly college football poll, also is No. 1 in total offense among the nation's major teams.

The Cadets regained that distinction in defeating Virginia last week, displacing Colorado, which still clings to the lead in rushing.

The National Collegiate Athletic Bureau statistics show Army with an average of 440.8 yards per game to Colorado's 425 yards. Colorado's rushing average is 353.3 yards to 278.5 yards for Clemson, in second place. Army is in 5th place in that department with 269.8 yards.

Hardin-Simmons has replaced Washington State in the passing department. In 5 games the Texas school has completed 80 of 168 tosses for an average of 172 yards a game. Army is second there, with 35 completions in 77 attempts for a 171-yard average in 4 games.

It might be noted that Army's total offense leadership is due to an adroit mixture of running and passing, as the Cadets do not lead in either of those departments. Colorado primarily is a running team, as it does not rank in the first 10 in passing.

Syracuse is the top scoring team of the nation, with an average of 32.5 points in 4 games, and Rutgers and Colorado are deadlocked for second at 32.3 in 4. Army is 4th with an even 30 in 4 starts.

Oklahoma, long a gridiron power, got back on the beam Saturday with 496 yards against Kansas to jump from 16th to 5th in total offense, and another Oklahoma eleven —Tulsa—leaped from 42nd to 11th with a 561-yard splurge in whomping Drake, 59-0.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

What do the results of freshmen football games mean? Not much if you're talking in terms of assured wins the following season.

In other words, there is no reason to bet the family auto on 1959 because the Nebraska freshmen beat Iowa State yearlings, 21-14. Most impressive thing about the NU win was the come from behind manner in which it was accomplished and the flashes of individual ability, according to reports of the contest.

Husker fans would do well not to contemplate an all-victorious 1959 season on the basis of one frosh game.

Iowa State's freshmen beat NU's freshmen last fall, yet it was the Nebraska varsity which won this year. Thus, the frosh score means little, except for giving a few ideas about the caliber of kids who may be on the way up.

While I didn't see the Husker frosh play Iowa State, I have watched them practice. There are several boys who could help the present Varsity; there are several boys who will help the 1959 Varsity; and there are many boys who will supply depth next fall, an absent commodity in 1958.

However, I don't think the current freshmen team will turn the Huskers into national power overnight. Together with the current bunch of underclassmen, the 1959 sophs should help make NU a better team and supply a better foundation for later years.

But the prospects for a barn-burner in one year are slim. It will take more than one or two good frosh crops to put the Huskers on a solid, contending basis.

Another thing to remember about a frosh team is the Nebraska attritition rate, which has been horrible in recent years—4 seniors on this year's team are all that remain of a huge freshmen team recruited in 1955, for example.

These 1958 freshmen won't help the Huskers a lick if they're not in school next fall. So the real test of the 1958 Frosh club will come in 1959 and the succeeding two years, not against Iowa State and Kansas State this year.

Don't misunderstand. I'm not pooh-poohing the win over Iowa State and the hard-work being done by the frosh under Coach Warren Schmakel. The news that they had won was the happiest moment most of us had at Syracuse.

But I am pointing out that a lot of water will trickle through the tap before next fall and I am hoping the 1958 frosh—particularly those who can really help the NU cause—will be around then.

Schmakel, by the way, feels the same way about book work and is keeping a sharp eye on the school room antics of his kids. There was no study hall the first 6 weeks of school, but the grind will now commence.

"We waited 6 weeks to see who needed a tutor or a special study hall," Schmakel said. "We knew there were some kids who would do their studies in excellent fashion and there would be no need for them to get special attention.

"But as soon as we get the 6 weeks grades, we will set up study hall for those boys having trouble. And there are some boys who didn't fare well the first 6 weeks, of course. But we're going to work with them as much as humanly possible."

The Husker staff is more aware of the problems than anyone and you can bet they'll be riding herd on the would-be el flunkos.

Here's hoping the staff and the players are successful in the project. Then, maybe the result of a freshmen game will mean more than it has in the past.

Stokes Is Winner In NBA Exhibition

Cincinnati (AP) — The Boston Celtics and the Detroit Pistons turned in victories in a benefit National Basketball Association exhibition doubleheader here that netted $10,121.40 to help pay hospital and medical bills of Maurice Stokes.

The Celtics edged out the NBA Champion St. Louis hawks in the opener 108-106 as K. C. Jones scored 15 points in the last quarter. In the second game Detroit blew an 11-point lead in the last quarter but rallied to whip the rookie-studded Cincinnati Royals, 108-103.

Stokes, star rebounder for the Royals, never has been more than partly conscious since he was stricken with a brain disease last March.

LAWRENCE SHUTS OUT FOE 45-0

End Triggers Win Over Chester

By Al Beebe

Lawrence—End John Beyke blocked two Chester punts in the first period to trigger a 45-0 Lawrence romp here Tuesday night.

It was the victors' 6th straight win without a loss, and nearly wrapped up the Pioneer Conference title. A triumph over winless Edgar next week will capture the crown.

Beyke broke through the Chester line the first time the losers went back to punt and blocked the kick. He then took a 23-yard pass from Mick Pohlmeier for a touchdown 3 plays later.

Later in the quarter Beyke crashed through again, grabbed the punt and ran it to the 2-yard line when Jack Gilsdorf plunged over for the touchdown.

Lawrence coasted during the second half with reserves seeing a lot of action. Beyke, Gilsdorf and Maurice Himmelberg each scored twice for the winners.

Don Ostdiek, Lawrence guard, was a stalwart in the line and led the defense which stopped Chester cold.

Lawrence: TDs, John Beyke 2 (23, 27, passes from Mick Pohlmeier); Jack Gilsdorf 2 (2, 2, runs); Maurice Himmelberg 2 (15, 19, runs); Pohlmeier (55, pass from Gilsdorf). PAT—Pohlmeier, Bill Schroer, Don Osteiek.

Musial Paces Cards' Victory

Seoul (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday trounced the Korean All-Stars 3-0 before one of the largest baseball crowds ever gathered here.

President Syngman Rhee and 25,000 fans, including hundreds of U.S. servicemen, watched Stan Musial clout two hits good for two runs in the new Seoul Stadium.

Starter Jim Brosnan allowed only 3 hits to the Koreans.

Army 'Turncoat' In Mule Theft

West Point, N.Y. (AP) — A marauding band of Pittsburgh students, led by a former cadet, tried early Tuesday to steal the Army's mascot mule. But all they got for their pains was a broken down former mascot.

The stunt was a prelude to Saturday's football game between the Pitt Panthers and the unbeaten West Point team.

The Pitts didn't need to case the elaborate layout of the U.S. Military Academy, high above the Hudson River. They numbered among them Paul C. Knouse, a former cadet who was dismissed from the Academy in 1956 when he flunked in French.

Knouse's knowledge guided the 6 Pittsburgh students to the stables, where they made off with the smallest of 5 mules there ensconsed, named "Poncho."

They got the beast off the Academy grounds all right, before an enlisted man on duty found it missing and sounded an alarm.

The GI called police at about the same time an early rising citizen of neigh- N.Y., did the same, when he saw the youths wandering about with the mule.

Those seized besides Knouse were Mike L. Gerber, Hanfred S. Gabler, Harvey F. Wimmer, Herbert L. Dodwell and Bruce D. Coine.

Their theft of government property probably won't send them to the gallows. At least it never has in the past with other similarly minded ranksters. Instead, police released them.

It turned out they hadn't kidnaped much of a mule. Poncho was retired last year as Army's mascot because of old age. He's just living out his life with 4 other mules, two of which alternate as West Point mascot.

SOUTHEAST TO HOST FAIRBURY IN HOMECOMING TILT TONIGHT

Lincoln Southeast, bidding for its 3rd straight football victory, hosts the Fairbury Jeffs tonight in the Knights' 1958 Homecoming game.

During halftime ceremonies the Southeast school will crown a homecoming king and queen and their attendants.

The Knights, who have beaten Seward 19-0 and Beatrice 13-6 in their last two outings, face tough sledding tonight.

Fairbury is one of the better grid teams in Southeast Nebraska and promises to be a stiff test for the Knights.

The Jeffs last week whitewashed Lincoln Northeast 20-0.

Dick Harr and Dick Young have been big guns in the Knights' attack. Each scored in the final quarter for Southeast's win over Beatrice last Friday.

Fairbury's Alvin Mapel is the sparkplug of the Jeffs' offensive game. He scored twice against Northeast and picked up crucial yardage with long runs in midfield.

Game time tonight is 7:30 p.m. on the Lincoln High Oval.

SLOWED NU GRIDDERS ARE TESTED

McCashland Praised For Syracuse Play

By Don Bryant

Bill Jennings ordered a scrimmage session Tuesday afternoon — to test the recovery of several previously injured players — but the squad suffered two more losses before the head-knocking even started.

No. 1 right end Roland McDole is confined to Student Health with a virus infection and won't make the trip to Colorado this week. Guy Sapp, Lincoln senior, will fill the gap against the Buffs, with soph John Bond backing him up.

Also scratched from the traveling roster is Dean Flock, No. 3 left halfback behind Pat Fischer and Max Martz — both of whom didn't play last week at Syracuse.

Alternate fullback Carroll Zaruba and starting tackle Joe Gacusana were held out of Tuesday's scrimmage, designed to test Fischer, Martz and the others who have been on the mend.

Tuesday's two deep lineup:

Centers — Don Fricke and Bob Kitchen.

Right guards — LeRoy Zentic and Dick Kosier.

Right tackles — Al Wellman and John Luecke.

Right ends —Guy Sapp and John Bond.

Quarterbacks — George Harshman and Harry Tolly.

Left halfbacks — Pat Fischer and Max Martz.

Right halfbacks — Larry Naviaux and Clay White.

Fullbacks —Dick McCashland and Lee Bigelow.

Husker Capt. Dick McCashland drew high praise from Jennings Tuesday.

"Dick played exceptionally well at Syracuse, defensively and offensively," Bill said. "He hustled all the time."

Meanwhile, Will Walls of Colorado, who scouted the Cornhuskers against Syracuse, also spoke highly of McCashland in his report to Dal Ward.

"Dick McCashland is an outstanding fullback, much like Jerry Brown," Walls said at Boulder. "He's a strong runner and a great linebacker. He made 20 unassisted tackles at Syracuse."

Wooten Dropped

Boulder, Colo. (AP)—For the first time in 3 years John Wooten, Colorado's All-America football candidate, has been relegated to the second team.

Head coach Dal Ward gave Bob Nagel the first-team position at left guard for Saturday's homecoming game with Nebraska.

These other starters were named:

COLD WEATHER MAY BRING IN MALLARDS

Duck Luck Improving

The State Game Commission reported Tuesday pintail and mallard ducks were moving into the McCook area as temperatures sank down to the 50 degree mark.

The Commission said hunters were still taking some teal and both hunting pressure and success have increased during the past few days.

Reports from the Sand Hills indicated that major movements of ducks into the area were hampered by continually blowing, dust-filled, winds.

Snow and blue geese were being taken from field and farm plots in the Humboldt area and lesser Canadians were reported as abundant.

Best hunting in the Humboldt area was reported to be during the early hours.

Panhandle success on Mallards ranged from poor to fair, according to Commission Fieldman Jim McCole at Scottsbluff.

At Alliance some ducks were being taken from pot holes.

Bird hunting in the Benkelman area was reported as fair, but not too many ducks have migrated into the region.

Northern ducks were arriving in the Rushville area and some fair shooting was reported near the larger lakes. Brandt geese were being taken at Shell Lake.

Little change was reported from last week at Gavins Point although there has been an increase in blue winged teal and some sizeable increases in mallards on the Missouri River near Hartington.

Blue and snow geese were staying on the river in the Richardson area.

Hopes were high at Ogallala that gusty, cold winds would improve duck hunting, primarily mallard, in the area.

Hunting was still considered good in the North Platte area. Sportsmen were taking bag limits of blue winged and green winged teal, mallards, snipe, rails and other shore birds.

Mild weather was slowing hunting in the North Loup area.

At Crawford, a few northern ducks were reported.

From the Omaha area, geese, mostly blues and snows, were said to be still abundant on the Missouri and Platte Rivers.

Missouri Soph Sets Big Eight Rushing Pace

Kansas City —With a tremendous 170-yard effort against Kansas State, Mel West, Missouri's sophomore halfback, boomed from 5th place to take command in the individual rushing category of the Big Eight Conference football statistics.

The Jefferson City rookie has now carried 71 times for 375 yards, to narrowly shade last week's leader, Howard Cook of Colorado. Cook has gained 373 yards on 56 carries.

Powerwise, the conference is beginning to shape up as the "experts" forecast. Colorado, considered the main threat to Oklahoma's title hopes, remained on top as the No. 1 offensive unit. The Buffs have amassed 1700 yards in four games, 1413 by ground and 287 by air.

The Sooners advanced from 5th to second as they rolled over Kansas. O.U., also in 4 games, has 1104 rushing, 510 passing, for 1514.

Oklahoma State, upsetter of unbeaten Houston, holds down the 3rd spot with 1440 in 5 games. The Cowpokes are still playing independently but are adding lustre to Big Eight prestige with their 4-1 record.

Phil Snowden of Missouri takes over as the leading passer, gaining 400 yards on 32 of 54 attempts. Dick Soergel of Oklahoma State, last week's leader, is second with 21 of 43 for 345 yards, and Dwight Nichols of Iowa State follows with 14 of 25 for 229.

Oklahoma State's Jim Wood held on as the leading pass catcher with 12 for 177. But Russ Sloan of Missouri, who grabbed 4 for 55 yards Saturday, moved into second. He has a total of 11 for 141 yards. Gale Gibson of Iowa State is 3rd with 135 yards on 8 catches.

Wood also held on as the best punter with a 41.5 average on 18 kicks. However, Norman Mailen of Kansas is tied with him averagewise on eight boots totalling 332 yards. Mailen was third last week.

Jim Wiggins of Oklahoma State is the new punt-return leader. He jumped from fifth place and has carried back seven for a 17.8 average. Cook of Colorado has a 12.9 average on 10 returns.

UPSETS PUT NEW LUSTER ON RATINGS

Texas, Auburn and Mississippi, voted into the 4th, 5th, and 6th spots in the Associated Press college football poll this week, had better have a care. Those spots are exceedingly vulnerable.

As the unbeaten Army powerhouse again was voted the No. 1 spot by the sportswriters and sportscasters, the previous holders of these 3 positions dropped from the 10 entirely, all victims in games last Saturday.

Wisconsin lost to Iowa, Michigan State to Purdue, and Navy was upset by Tulane.

On the strength of its victory, Iowa jumped from 13th place to 7th this week. Northwestern moved from 17th to 8th as a result of its tremendous showing in trouncing Michigan, and always-dangerous Oklahoma moved up from 11th to 9th, the voters obviously impressed by the Sooners' lop-sided victory over Kansas.

Army received 90 first place votes, 68 more than Louisiana State, which climbed from 9th position to third.

Ohio State, moving from 3rd to second, received only 14 votes for the No. 1 spot; but it had tremendous support for the lesser positions in the top 10.

The tie with Georgia Tech was costly to Auburn, which dropped from second a week ago to 5th, right behind Texas. The Longhorns jumped from 7th to 4th. Like Ohio State, they had big support for the lesser spots, although considered No. 1 by only two voters.

The top 10, based on 10 points for a first place, 9 for second, etc., (first place votes and season records in parenthesis):

1.	Army (90) (4-0)	1,446
2.	Ohio State (14) (4-0)	1,188
3.	Louisiana State (22) (5-0)	963
4.	Texas (2) (5-0)	861
5.	Auburn (5) (3-0-1)	706
6.	Mississippi (4) (5-0)	693
7.	Iowa (13) (3-0-1)	632
8.	Northwestern (3) (4-0)	618
9.	Oklahoma (1) (3-1)	441
10.	Clemson (5) (4-0)	271

The second 10: Notre Dame 183; Colorado (1) 157; Wisconsin 131; Air Force Academy 122; Purdue 62; Texas Christian 37; Georgia Tech 35; Navy 31; Mississippi State 30; Michigan State 24.

Dawkins' Status Still In Doubt

West Point, N. Y. (AP)—The status of Harry Walters and Captain Pete Dawkins, Army's injured backs, still remained in doubt Tuesday. Neither participated in the practice session.

Coach Earl Blaik said that final decision concerning their availability for the important Pittsburgh game on Saturday would be delayed until Wednesday.

"We will not use either player if he is not entirely well," Blaik said. "We still have 5 games to play including Pitt and it would not be an intelligent move on our part to use these men in their present condition."

Walters' injury is described as a severe ankle sprain.

NEWK TOP HITTING HURLER, SPAHN HAS MOST SAFETIES

New York (AP) —The old adage that "Pitchers can't hit" doesn't always hold true.

A group of good hitting pitchers put on a display of batting proficiency during the 1958 baseball season that, at times overshadowed their mound exploits.

Don Newcombe, who split the National League campaign with Los Angeles and Cincinnati, paced the major league pitchers in batting with a .361 average.

Milwaukee's Warren Spahn collected the most hits, 36, and tied teammate Lew Burdette for the runs batted in lead with 15 apiece. Lew also was the only hurler to hit a grand-slam homer.

Burdette socked two home runs in one game for the second time in his career, tying a National League record set by Newcombe. The major league record is 5 times, held by Wes Ferrell.

The New York Yankees' Don Larsen was the only moundsman to deliver a pinch-hit round-tripper. He also had the highest batting average among American League pitchers, .306.

Don Drysdale of Los Angeles belted 7 home runs to tie a National League record for pitchers established by Newcombe in 1955. Ferrell holds the big league record for a season, nine in 1930.

Baltimore's Jack Harshman, who originally came up to the Giants as a first baseman, was the American League's home run leader among the pitchers with 6. He also had 14 RBI's.

Lincoln High's Zuerlein Is Prep Star Of Week

By Al Beebe

Quarterback John Zuerlein was the key man last week when Lincoln High had quite a night. Zuerlein scored the first two touchdowns in the 33-0 upset of Omaha North.

Zuerlein carried the ball 6 times from his signal-calling slot, and gained 52 yards for an 8.7 average. His ball handling and blocking was instrumental in the big gains also ripped off by his two halfbacks, Art McWilliams and Sam Zollicoffer. McWilliams rushed for 104 in 18 tries, while Zollicoffer worked the reverse for 120 yards in but 6 carries.

Zuerlein's signal-calling was a big factor. He set up his plays beautifully. On his two touchdown runs, both quick spurts through guard from the T formation quarterback position, North had been set up for wide runs by Zollicoffer or McWilliams, and had the linebackers set wide.

Zuerlein just stepped through the hole.

Zuerlein, plus these other top performers from last week, will receive "Football Player of the Week" cards from The Star.

Stuart—Jerry Taylor gained 299 yards, scoring twice, in 20-19 win over Ainsworth.

Waverly—Tackle Larry Hammer was big man defensively, and blocked a punt then recovered in the end zone for clinching TD in 27-7 win over Wilber.

Palmer—Tracy Paul's 3 TD's beat Stromsburg, 20-7.

Lincoln Southeast—Dick Young hammered Beatrice down in 13-6 upset.

Bennet—Larry Hunt scored 4 times in 47-19 rout of Sprague-Martell.

Alliance—Dick Stephen's two first period touchdown passes sprung 21-6 surprise over McCook.

Holdrege—Win Peterson pulled club from behind with two last quarter scores, one a 60-yarder, to beat Lexington 27-21.

Columbus—Guard Ron Moody, 165-pound senior, was tough defensively and opened the holes in 41-0 thumping of Fremont.

Southeast Sophomores Trip Link Youngsters

Steve Van Sickle ran 50 yards to set up a tie-breaking touchdown and give the Southeast sophomores a 13-6 decision over the Lincoln High youngsters.

Van Sickle's run in the 4th period moved the ball to the one, where quarterback Mike Willets plunged over for his second TD of the day.

LH Sophomores	0	6	0	0—6
SE Sophomores	0	7	0	6—13

Lincoln High: TD, John Richardson (5, pass from Wesley McCoy).
Southeast: TDs, Mike Willets (12, 1, runs). PAT, Willets.

State laboratory tests showed that a saliva sample taken from the horse after the $50,000 Trans-America Pace at Yonkers Raceway Sept. 30 showed presence of a drug.

Canadian Pro Team Wants Knox To Stay

Toronto (AP)—Lew Hayman, managing director of the Toronto Argonauts, is planning an all-out attempt to get passing wizard Ronnie Knox back for the 1959 Big Four Canadian football season.

The 24-year-old quarterback, on loan from the Chicago Bears of the National Football League, has been the key to an amazing Argo comeback, passing and leading the team to whopping shutout victories in their last two games.

The Argonauts swamped Hamilton 37-0 and Ottawa 41-0 as Knox completed 41 of 59 passes and emerged as an offensive tactician who set up touchdown plays with the authority of a coach rather than a hired hand.

Knox wants to come back with the club for 1959 but George Halas, owner of the Bears, may have other ideas.

Halas holds Knox's football contract and if he wants to keep playing he may have to do it for the man he squabbled with last year.

Knox was drafted by the Bears in 1957 but left the club after a dispute with Halas.

Prep, Central Are Paired Today In Mid-Week Football Feature

By Al Beebe

The Star's No. 1 Class A football team, Creighton Prep, faces its stiffest remaining test to highlight today's hefty teacher's convention week schedule.

Prep, rolling with a 5-0-1 record, entertains Omaha Central (5-1) in a battle of speedy powers. Should Prep win, only oft-beaten Omaha Benson stands in the way of an unbeaten season.

That won't guarantee Prep the No. 1 spot in the ratings however, since Omaha South, which played an 18-18 tie with Prep, can still impress enough to take over the lead, or at least gain a tie in the ratings.

The Omaha contest, a Big 10 game, a Mid East clash here in Lincoln, plus several other important contests make today's schedule a spicy one.

Prediction record last week was 36-8, for a season mark of 159-55—.743.

Omaha Central at Creighton Prep—Both warmed up with big wins last week, and Prep still seems to be the class of the field.

Fairbury at Lincoln Southeast — Knights will have to pull another upset to win this one. Fairbury by a nose.

Alliance at Fearney—Visitors have been tough in Big 10 games.

Blair at Ashland—A Class B standout, with Blair to bump Ashland from the list of unbeaten teams.

The others (selection in black type):

Fullerton at Albion, Beatrice at Fremont, Loup City at Broken Bow, Burwell at St. Paul, Elwood at Cambridge, Minden at Central City, Valley at David City, Wymore at Deshler, Geneva at Sutton, Hay Springs at Minatare, Hebron at Superior, Curtis at Lexington, Naper at O'Neil St. Mary's, Johnson at Brock, Nemaha at Stella, Eagle at Bennet.

SCOTTSBLUFF SETS CLASS A PACE; PLATTERS TRAIL

Friday foes Scottsbluff and North Platte are at the top an dthe bottom of the Class A football ladder in Nebraska.

Scottsbluff has won the most games (6), scored the most points (277) and allowed the fewest (13) of all Class A teams. North Platte is the only team without a win, although the Platters do have a tie in 6 games. NP also has scored the fewest points, 32.

Omaha Benson steps in for North Platte, however, in having allowed the most points, 161.

Of the 33 Nebraska Class A teams, all but 9 are playing .500 ball or better.

Auburn Captain To Miss Game

Auburn, Ala. (AP) — Lloyd Nix, captain and star quarterback on the Auburn football team, probably will miss the Maryland game Saturday due to a shoulder injury against Georgia Tech last week.

Coach Ralph Jordan said Nix's shoulder had failed to respond to treatment. Earlier it had been hoped Nix would be ready for Maryland.

Jordan said he expected Nix to be available for the Florida game at Gainesville, Nov. 1.

Power District Gets Director Change OK

Authorization to change the number of directors has been granted the York County Rural Public Power District.

Dan Jones Jr., State Department of Water Resources director, in granting the authorization, said it allows York to change the number of its directors in York County from 5 to 4 and the number in Fillmore County from two to 3.

The new number of directors will not go into effect until the 1960 election.

Jones will hold hearings on the application of the Nebraska Generation and Transmission Co-operative for permission to transfer from a co-operative to a public power district.

Demo Strategist Smathers Scoffs At Ike Efforts Effectiveness

'No Evidence' GOP Helped

Washington (AP) — A top Democratic strategist, Sen. George Smathers of Florida, scoffed at the effectiveness of President Eisenhower as a campaigner.

Smathers said he has seen no evidence that Eisenhower's campaign swings have hurt any Democrat up for election in two weeks, and added:

"He couldn't transfer his popularity in 1956, when he was running, to Republican candidates. I don't think there's any chance of his doing it this year.

"I don't think he will have as much effect as (Vice President) Nixon."

Discounted

Smathers is chairman of the Senate Democratic Campaign Committee. He discounted Eisenhower's campaign role in a news conference in which he also:

1. Called on the Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler of Indiana, to quit talking so much about party differences over civil rights.
2. Said no money available to the Senate Campaign Committee has gone into southern Senate races, unless West Virginia is considered southern. 'The so-called liberals are getting the greatest portion of our funds," Smathers said.
3. Predicted the Democrats will pick up 10 to 12 more Senate seats in the Nov. 4 voting. They now control the Senate 49-47, not counting a new gain of one in Maine which would make the edge 50-46.

Made Up Loss

Budapest (UPI) — Hungary has made up a loss of population caused by the exodus to the west of nearly 200,000 refugees after the 1956 revolt, according to the state statistical office. The latest census placed the population at 9,868,000, compared with 9,861,000 at the end of 1955.

SOWERS END FINAL TRIP OF 1958

Lincoln Star Special

Weeping Water, Neb.—One hundred and 10 persons gathered here Tuesday night for a dinner meeting attended by members of the Weeping Water Chamber of Commerce and Lincoln Sowers, goodwill group of the capital city chamber.

The event concluded a one-day trip to southeastern Nebraska for the Sowers to close the 1958 season.

Fred Rehmeier of Weeping Water, member of the State Fair board, addressed the group. Also speaking was Mayor Fred B. Cherry and Ray Ramsay, Lincoln. Presiding was C. M. Chenoweth, also of Lincoln.

Just before reaching Weeping Water, one of the two buses transporting the Sowers broke down forcing the 50-member group to board one bus for the rest of the trip to this community.

Earlier in the day the Sowers visited 12 other towns.

At Union 150 persons together with Mayor Earl Wolfe turned out.

Nebraska City's band, directed by M. D. McKenney, together with a police escort were on hand when the Lincolnites arrived there. Also in the group were Mayor Ervin Rogers; Verne Jones, president of the Nebraska City Chamber; and Robert L. McConnelee, chamber secretary.

One hundred and 50 persons greeted the Sowers at Auburn. Welcome flags and 200 residents of Humboldt turned out there. Extending an official welcome was Al Watsek, vice president of the Humboldt Chamber of Commerce.

School was dismissed at Table Rock as the Sowers arrived. Table Rock's band, directed by Robert Noltensmeyer, was on hand as was L. J. Wenzbauer, president of the chamber.

The Sowers' luncheon stop was at Pawnee City where there was a joint gathering of the Rotary Club and the Pawnee Public Service Club. Dean Taylor, chairman of the Pawnee Club committee in charge of the event, presided, with Lou Roper of Lincoln presiding for the Sowers.

A police escort together with the grade school band, directed by Bob Harrison, greeted the Sowers at Tecumseh. Three hundred persons also turned out together with Mayor P. F. Nestor.

One hundred and 30 persons greeted the Sowers at Cook. At Syracuse an estimated 400 persons together with the championship high school band, directed by B. A. Johnson, welcomed the Lincolnites.

Schools were dismissed at Unadilla when the capital city group arrived. Extending a welcome there was Elbert Miller, school principal. Schools were also dismissed at Palmyra and Eagle where crowds estimated from 100 to 200 persons turned out. Mayor Joe Rudolph and Supt. Paul Embree were also on hand at Eagle.

Politics Not Part Of Trip

Lincoln-Star Special

Syracuse, Neb. — One over enthusiastic member of the Lincoln Sowers had his activities squelched as he turned a stop in Syracuse into a political rally as well as a good will gathering.

The member plastered the Sowers' bus with poster sign pictures of Gov. Victor E. Anderson and distributed Anderson campaign literature. Several Syracuse people protested the political activity of the non-partisan Sowers group.

Chamber of Commerce Assistant General Manager Don Stacy of Lincoln explained that the political activity was stopped as soon as it was discovered. It was carried on, he said, by one of the new members of the group and was not any part of the Sowers trip.

Stacy said that so far as he knew, Syracuse was 'he only stop where the political activity was carried on.

Gov. Anderson's office reported the chief executive had no knowledge of the incident and had not solicited any such activity on the part of anyone.

Morrison Runs Into 'Financial Pinch'

By The Associated Press

Frank Morrison of Lincoln, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, said Tuesday that his campaign is feeling a financial pinch as it goes into the final two weeks.

Morrison told the Associated Press he would do more advertising and make more television appearances if he had more money.

The Lincoln lawyer said he has spent about $8,000 to $9,000 of a $15,000 budget so far. He guessed his Republican opponent, Senator Roman Hruska of Omaha, had spent twice that.

Morrison added that he thought Hruska was probably spending 5 times as much as the Morrison forces on billboard advertisements.

The role of organized labor in the Nebraska campaign continued to be debated Tuesday.

"Nebraska union leaders who have so bitterly criticized the Republican party in the last few weeks do not actually speak for the majority of their own members," said Republican National Committeeman Don Ross of Omaha.

Seeks Two-Fold Goal

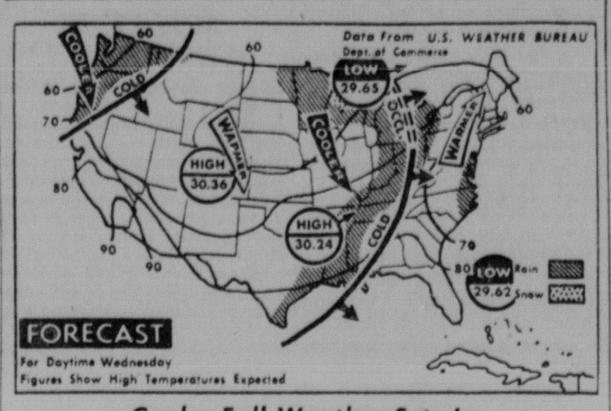
In Norfolk, Rep. R. D. Harrison running for re-election said he hopes for the election of a Congress which will end deficit spending and curb the power of corrupt labor union bosses."

State Democratic Chairman Russell V. Hanson said Tuesday he has called a meeting of the party's senatorial, gubernatorial and congressional candidates for the latter part of the week.

The Newcastle party chief said the candidates would discuss an attack on what he called "failure of our present congressional delegation to represent Nebraska farmers and the failure of our state administration to adhere to prescribed wage standards for Nebraska wage earners."

Democratic Congressional candidate Clair Callan said Tuesday his caravan would make several appearances in the first congressional district during the next two weeks.

The caravan is composed of businessmen and farmers from Odell and surrounding towns and communities.



Cooler Fall Weather Sets In

Rain is expected Wednesday along the east coast from Delaware south to North Carolina. Showers are due from southeastern Texas through the lower Ohio Valley into the lower Great Lakes. Rain mixed with snow will fall in the upper Great Lakes and upper Mississippi Valley. Showers are expected in the northwest Pacific states. The rest of the nation will have fair weather. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Not Guilty Plea Entered For Landon

Papillion, Neb. (AP)—Everett L. Landon, 30, Omaha, stood mute Tuesday when he was arraigned in Sarpy County Court on a charge of first degree murder.

The charge is based on the fatal shooting of his wife, Ethel, 25, outside a Sarpy County bar Sunday.

Because Landon remained mute, Judge Joe Strawn entered a plea of not guilty for him.

Landon was ordered held without bond pending a Nov. 4 preliminary hearing.

Harvest Operations Moving Into High Gear

Corn and sorghum harvest moved into high gear in Nebraska last week, government crop observers reported Tuesday.

By the week end nearly one fourth of the bumper corn crop had been picked, according to the weekly crop report of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

Last year, when wet weather hampered the ingathering, only 6% of the corn had been harvested.

In several eastern, central and south central counties the harvest was near the halfway mark, the division noted.

Nearly half of the sorghum crop had been reaped by the week end and some central and south central districts were at the three-quarters mark. This, too, was in sharp contrast with last year when excessive lodging and high moisture content kept farmers out of the fields.

The soybean harvest is three-fourths completed and harvest of the late potato crop and sugar beets nears completion the report said.

Corn has averaged about 19% moisture; milo, 16%, and soybeans, 13%, with quality good to excellent.

The dry weather, while a boon to harvesters, has set back pastures, ranges and the new winter wheat crop, the division said.

Nearly all counties report a shortage of surface soil moisture and more than half of the counties report a lack of subsoil moisture.

Winter wheat conditions vary considerably. In southern counties the wheat condition remains good except for some late seedings which are spotted. Prospects are only fair to poor in the central and some northern counties where rainfall has been far below normal since seeding time.

More than a fourth of the counties now report short pasture feed supplies. Cured grass is dry and brittle, increasing danger from fire.

Feed grain and hay supplies remain ample to abundant, however, and livestock feeding is on a larger scale than last year. Feeder cattle movement continues heavy and demand is strong for all kinds and classes of livestock.

Storm Batters Coast, Damages 4 Warships

...7 Die In Auto Accidents

Cape Hatteras, N. C. (AP)—A hard-hitting storm of near hurricane force jabbed at North Carolina and Virginia coastal areas Tuesday, roughing up 4 destroyers and indirectly causing causing 7 deaths.

The fatalities were reported in the Wilmington, N. C., area, where police said 7 persons have been killed in traffic accidents in high winds and driving rain since last Saturday morning.

At least 7 persons were injured. Traffic police said 30 wrecks were reported in the city of Wilmington, swept with winds up to 45 miles an hour. At least 20 more accidents were reported in the 3-county area round it.

The storm, which has hung almost stationary off the coast southeast of Cape Hatteras for two days, is expected to move out to sea Wednesday morning.

High Tides

It has brought strong winds, registered in gusts up to 60 miles an hour at some points, and high tides to much of the coastal area.

The destroyers were the Rich, Ellison, Moale and Sumner. The Rich, which suffered minor passageway flooding, and the Moale, which reported damage to the deckhouse and slight injuries to the upper deck, headed back to Norfolk, Va.

The Ellison remained at sea and the Sumner, en route to Norfolk because of engine trouble, received minor storm damage but continued her journey.

Gusts of wind up to 70 miles an hour and 15 to 25-foot seas lashed the Nags-Head-Manteo, N. C., area. At New Bern, the storm uprooted large trees, knocked out electrical service in one section and flooded the Neuse and Trent rivers.

Busline Sees Iowa Word By Friday

Fairfield, Ia. (AP) — Officials of the strikebound American Buslines said Tuesday they should know by Friday whether bus service can be resumed to 116 southern Iowa municipalities.

The Iowa Commerce Commission has ordered the firm to restore full service by next Monday, or show cause Nov. 3 why its franchise should not be revoked.

Merton Ephraim, general manager of company sales, said he conferred by telephone with company officials at Lincoln, Neb., Tuesday morning. He added that it would take further discussions before a firm company policy could be made on the commission order.

3 Issue Order

The company has not operated in any of the 28 states it services since drivers, maintenance workers and terminal employes went on strike July 1. Only 3 of the states have ordered the company to resume service or lose its franchise, Ephraim said. They are Missouri, Iowa and Alabama.

"I'm sure the company will do everything possible to preserve its rights to operate in Iowa," he said.

The Commission has power to cancel the company's franchise and grant operating rights to other firms, a commission spokesman said.

At American's general headquarters in Lincoln, President W. F. Aikman said the Iowa matter "has been assigned to Mr. Ephraim" and declined any additional statement or comment at this time.

He said the company is still negotiating for sale of its property and operations, but that he had no progress report to make.

The company was recently taken over by new stockholders under a reorganization plan approved by the Federal District Court.

Stock Mart Gives Ground

New York (AP) — The stock market staged another irregular decline Tuesday as trading continued to subside.

Losses in key issues generally ranged from fractions to around a point or so. Gains were small in most csaes.

Turnover dropped to 4,010,000 shares from Monday's 4,560,000 shares and Friday's 5,360,000 shares. This was the first session since Oct. 9 with volume under 4½ million.

Actually the market was pretty uneven. Of 1,211 issues traded, 437 advanced, 548 declined and 226 were unchanged. There were 80 new 1958 highs and 2 lows for the year.

Some brokers attributed the days gyrations largely to technical factors. They said the fact that the decline was accompanied by lower volume could be regarded as bullish.

Much of the day's trading centered on individual issues.

Oils and rubbers were mostly higher. Steels and rails declined. Metals were up much of the day but finished irregular. Motors ranged from fractionally higher to off more than a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 40c to $198.20. Industrials dipped 10c, rails $1 and utilities 20c.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Volume totaled 1,140,000 shares compared with Monday's 1,180,000 shares.

BOND MARKET

New York (AP) — Long-term U. S. government bonds finished Tuesday with a strong kick that wiped out earlier losses and put some issues well inside the plus column.

Corporate bonds veered toward the downside, with convertibles and investment quality issues under pressure.

Bond sales on the New York Stock Exchange totaled $4,920,000 per value against Monday's $5,880,000.

WHEAT, RYE DROP SHARPLY

Chicago (AP) — Most wheat and all rye deliveries turned sharply lower on the Board of Trade Tuesday, reflecting hedging and stop loss selling.

Increased selling late in the session disclosed lack of demand for wheat. As selling increased, the bread grain dipped almost two cents a bushel on the nearby December and March deliveries but recovered slightly around the close.

Rye at one time was down 2c a bushel on the March and May contracts and nearly 2c on the December.

At the close wheat was ⅜ to 1¾ lower, December $1.94½-¾; corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, old style December $1.11-11¼; oats unchanged to ⅜ lower, December 64⅝-¾; rye 1¼ to 1⅝ lower, December $1.28½-⅝, and soybeans unchanged to ½ higher, November $2.13⅛-13.

Corn firmed on short covering and improved demand after again declining to new lows for the season in early dealings.

Pressure on soybeans also eased. The bean harvest is about finished and a large per cent of that crop is being withheld by producers, apparently for government support.

MAGNIFICENT!

For those people desiring a spacious one floor design and who can afford better than average housing, we suggest this heavy built rancho brick with attached two-car garage. There are three really nice bedrooms, a separate dining room, fine kitchen with eat space. When you consider quality and location, the price of $22,000 makes this a real buy.

Nixon Offers Olive Branch To Demo Moderates Who Back Ike

Baltimore, Md. (AP)—Vice President Nixon offered an olive branch to Democratic "moderates" who support President Eisenhower's foreign policies.

But he said the Republicans will meet attacks from the opposition party's "radicals" by strong talk about the "weakness and vacillation of the previous administration" in this field.

Contrasting the foreign policies of Eisenhower and of former President Truman, Nixon told a cheering crowd of 1,600 persons in the Pikesville Armory that "a weak policy is a war policy, a firm policy is a peace policy."

As a possible indication of Republican fortunes in this swing state former President Truman drew a crowd of 2,100 in the same hall last month.

Nixon, often accused by Truman and other Democrats of adopting unfair campaign tactics, went out of his way to say he doesn't question "the sincerity or patriotism of those who criticize our policies."

"There is no war party in the United States," he said. "All Americans want peace. There is no party of surrender in the United States. All Americans cherish our independence and freedom."

Nixon pointed to Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) as a "notable example" of the Democratic "moderates" he said had supported the administration's foreign policies.

He picked on Dean Acheson, former secretary of state, as an example of the "radicals" he said had been "bitterly partisan" in their criticisms of Eisenhower's actions.

The Vice President urged support of Maryland Republican candidates after a noon swing into Wilmington, Del., and a televised news conference at which he said he does not believe the resumption of the Communist bombardment of Quemoy will have any major political effect.

"We are proud of the fact that many Democrats, of which (sic) Lyndon Johnson is a notable example, have supported the Eisenhower foreign policy," he said.

Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, said in a campaign speech in Tennessee that with President Eisenhower, Nixon and Secretary of State Dulles giving different versions, it is difficult to tell what administration policy is. But he said Democrats will not participate in dividing this country in the face of a foreign aggressor."

Women Admitted

London (UPI) — England's tradition-bound House of Lords admitted its 1st women members in history in a picturesque ceremony that packed the 700-year-old chambers to capacity.

Two of 4 life peeresses named by Queen Elizabeth last year were introduced to the upper house amid the traditional cries of "hear, hear" from the peers.

Cooperation Of Osteopaths, Doctors Legislative Goal

A course of action which will promote a "reasonable degree of cooperation between doctors of medicine and doctors of osteopathy" rather than "radical" legislation, is the goal of the Legislative Study Committee on the Healing Arts, chairman Sen. Don McGinley said Tuesday.

The Ogallala senator made the statement following an executive session of the committee which returned to Lincoln Tuesday after a tour of inspection of osteopathic facilities at Kansas City, Mo.

The committee visited the Kansas City School of Osteopathy and Surgery, the Kansas City Osteopathic Hospital, Conley Maternity Home, and Kansas City Osteopathic Clinic.

"We want as a layman committee to find out certain facts — what subjects are taught and what the modern concept of osteopathy is," McGinley said, adding that the committee "was not judging the quality of teaching there. It's not for a layman's group to determine final accreditation of these schools."

McGinley said, "The committee hopes to recommend a course of action to the Legislature that is not radical, but will be helpful to doctors of medicine and doctors of osteopathy to smooth out some of the differences that they seem to have and which show up before the Legislature every two years in some form."

McGinley said the committee will hold another executive session before deciding its final recommendation to the Legislative Council which meets in Lincoln Nov. 18-20.

Members of the committee which toured the Kansas City facilities were Sens. McGinley, Harry Pizer of North Platte, Stan Portsche of Lincoln, Willard Waldo of DeWitt and David Tews of Norfolk.

'No Contest' Plea Entered In Photo Case

B. Charles Pease of 501 So. 48th pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) Tuesday in Lancaster County Court to a charge of possession of obscene photographs.

Judge Herbert A. Ronin accepted his plea and ordered the 38-year-old man bound over to District Court for disposition. The charge carries a penalty of one year in the county jail and-or a $1,000 fine upon conviction.

Pease was charged with having in his possession with intent to give away obscene photographs of Charlen E. Brown, 21, of 229 No. 12th. Mrs. Brown pleaded guilty to a vagrancy charge in connection with the case and Judge Ronin deferred sentencing her.

A third person allegedly involved in the case, a 44-year-old Lincoln man, was ordered released to his attorney subject to call by Chief Dep. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrnbruch, police reported. No charges have as yet been filed against him.

2 New Cases Of Encephalitis

Two new cases of encephalitis reported Tuesday by the State Health Department boosted the number of cases this year to 28 compared to 6 at this time last year.

The new cases of the disease, commonly referred to as sleeping sickness, involved a 21-month-old girl from Holdrege in Phelps County and a 34-year-old man from Humboldt in Richardson County.
